TO

DR. DON C. FAITH

Director of Activities for Men

AND TO

MISS VIRGINIA KIRKBRIDE

Director of Activities for Women

Extracurricular activities play an important part in the education that a student receives at George Washington University. Miss Virginia R. Kirkbride, Director of Activities for Women, and Dr. Don C. Faith, Director of Activities for Men, have done outstanding jobs in furthering student activities at the University. But even more important, they are outstanding people, ones whom students can truly regard as friends, and with whom problems and successes alike can be shared. It is to them that this edition of THE CHERRY TREE is dedicated, as just a small token of our appreciation for their contribution to our school and to its members.

Orientation Assembly.

During the past twelve months the world has revolved many times and a great deal has happened, not just here at George Washington University, but in the District of Columbia, in the United States, and in the world. Into our lives have come such items as Sputnik, Jayne Mansfield and "Peyton Place". G.W. students have sailed down the Potomac to Marshall Hall, danced to the music of Claude Thornhill, survived the efforts of the "Organization for Student Action," and played the Naval Academy in football.

For some students the school day has ended with the conclusion of their class at noon, while for others it did not begin until after dinner. Still others have kept campus buildings alive after the last class of the day by working out policies and schemes in meetings of campus organizations as the night cleaning crews worked their way through the buildings. But for all students at the University, it has been a memorable year, one filled with fun, worry, sadness, study, relaxation and companionship.

This particular edition of the CHERRY TREE is going to try to tell that story, the story of the last year, the story of the year 1957-58.

IN THE WORLD

The visit to this country of Queen Elizabeth did much to strengthen Anglo-American relations.

Two metal moons lobbed into space by Russia made the biggest news of 1957. By the end of January in 1958, the United States' answer, the Explorer, was orbiting as high as 1700 miles above the earth, but only after severe soul-searching on the part of Americans concerning both their educational and military setups . . . While the beep-beep from space and the fate of the first space traveler, the little dog Laika, commanded the attention of the world, another drama was unfolding inside Russia itself, the swift rise of Nikita Khrushchev to supreme, if uneasy, authority . . . A young Illinois soldier, William S. Girard, stationed in Japan shot and killed a Japanese woman on a target range and created an international issue . . . The Middle East generated another major crisis when Russia expanded her influence into Syria, and then, suddenly, Syria began hollering that Turkey and America were about to attack her. There followed Russian warnings, American warnings, appeals to the U.N., a United States airlift of tanks to Jordan, Turkish maneuvers, and an Egyptian troop movement to Syria. And then Khrushchev barged into a Turkish diplomatic party, and said, in effect, there would be no war.

Laika, the World's first space traveler.

IN THE UNITED STATES

The attention of the United States focused on Little Rock when federal troops were rushed in by presidential order as the White House's contribution to the solution of the integration problem, spreading bitterness through the South and stirring up political currents yet to be measured . . . The Asian flu epidemic swept out of Hong Kong to place twelve million victims "under the weather" for a few days . . . Hurricane Audrey resulted in the loss of five hundred and thirty-nine lives and forty million dollars worth of property . . . Dave Beck and James Hoffa of the Teamsters' Union starred in the congressional hearings on rackets . . . But the nation had time for fun too. Musically the age of rock-and-roll continued, but, at the same time, Pat Boone replaced Elvis Presley as America's favorite and the nation's number one tune was not "Great Balls of Fire" but "Tammy". In the sports world, the Milwaukee Braves, led by the great pitching of Lew Burdette became the new world champions, while two veteran outfielders, Stan Musial and Ted Williams, led their leagues in batting. In football the great Oklahoma winning streak was ended by Notre Dame, 7-0, while Auburn emerged as the top collegiate team and the Detroit Lions reigned as the professional champions.

"Join the air force and see the South" . . . the political repercussions of this scene have yet to be measured.

IN THE NATION'S CAPITAL

The residents of the District of Columbia were subjected to the usual amount of political activity. For the first time in 82 years the United States Senate passed a "civil rights" bill, a compromise measure, which was enacted despite the record-breaking one-man filibuster by Senator Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who dragged out the fight against the wishes of his Southern colleagues . . . President Eisenhower's mild stroke caused summersaults in the stock market and brought up once more the issue of establishing succession procedure for an ailing president in case of necessity . . . Queen Elizabeth's visit captured the city's imagination, despite the fact that she preferred the University of Maryland's brand of football to G.W.'s . . . Queen Elizabeth was not Washington's only important visitor, as the District's Commissioners handed out keys to the city to such personalities as King Saud of Saudi Arabia and actress Jayne Mansfield . . . Once again the year was a discouraging one for the District's residents as far as sports were concerned. Despite the heroic efforts of home run champion Roy Sievers, the Senators returned to last place in the American League. The Redskins, even though they were blessed with greats Gene Boito and Eddie LeBaron, never had a chance for the championship, a fact that we hope will be corrected by their signing of their number one draft choice, G.W.'s own Mike Sommer.

Those whom social pleasure charms,
And whose heart the tide of memory warms,
Know the joy, know the treasure
In the life we lead of innocent pleasure.
For when collegiate days are remembered, pro or con
These are the events which memories are built upon;
Each gala occasion served to represent
A source of carefree, innocent merriment!
We revel with resounding cheer.
All we wished for happened this year:
Politics, proms, and carnivals, if you desire;
Open houses, Follies, and a Great Ball of Fire!
Plays, cruises, and delightful dances,
Goat Shows, Carnivals, and Ocean City romances!
All of these activities served to be
A great advance to our felicity.
And though swift the measured sands have run,
Memories of 1958 will never be done;
All of our yesterdays, todays, and tomorrows,
Will live in our memories of fun and sorrows.

Look Ma, no hands.

It was the men of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, singing "Rocka-My-Soul" and "Delta Shelter" who captured first place in the IFC Sing, February 25. Will Hinely did a superb job as Director. Second place honors went to Phi Sigma Kappa and Phi Alpha took third place. Bruce Mencher, Phi Alpha, won the coveted Director's Cup. Dave Astor, local entertainer and comedian, provided the laughs between acts as master of ceremonies. Honors awarded at the event included the presentation of the Sigma Chi Scholarship Cup to Phi Alpha Fraternity, and the IFC Outstanding Delegate Key to Dick Geisler, Sigma Chi.

The Intra-Fraternity Council Prom was held the following evening at the Presidential Arms. Intermission entertainment was provided by Ann Mitchell, and the Four Winds.

"Mousetrap"

And me without my security blanket!

"Don't blame it on ME!"

It was Agatha Christi's "Mousetrap" which provided a chilling mystery presented by the University Players March 8 and 9 in Lisner Auditorium. Ed Ferrero, Managing Director of University Dramatics produced, and Pat O'Connor directed the play which concerned the snowbound occupants of an English manor guest house and two murders committed by one of the guests. Heading the cast was Loydell Jones as Mollie Ralston, Clayton Chadwell as Giles Ralston, Bernie Passeltiner as Paravicini, Bob Dolson as Sergeant Trotter, Eddy Clark as Miss Casewell, and Norton Hardesty's unforgettable performance as Christopher Wren. Elizabeth Claffy, as Mrs. Boyle, and Bill Dotson, as Major Metcalf, added to make this production a success.

Panhellenic Sing and Prom

It was "A Rhapsody in Blue" and "Theta Queen", sung by Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, that won first place in the Panhellenic Sing, March 15. Kappa Kappa Gamma took second place honors, and Delta Gamma won third place. Dr. Robert Harmon made the unique presentation of the Director's Cup, a tie, to Loydell Jones, KKG, and to Peggy Hasting, KAT. Also on the program was tapping for Delphi, Sorority Women's Honorary, and Panhellenic Scholarship Awards; 1st place in sorority scholarship went to Kappa Delta. The Phi Sigma Sigma pledge class also took first place scholarship honors.

The Panhellenic Prom took place the following evening in the grand ballroom of the Presidential Arms; Jack Morton's Orchestra provided the music. Mary Lou Bernard, Panhellenic Council social chairman, headed the Prom committee.

Peggy Hastings and Loydell Jones tie for the Director's Cup; here Miss Hastings receives the cup from Dick Giesler, IFC President.

Kappa Alpha Theta, first place.

It was the University Dance Production Group that presented a sparkling and varied concert March 22 and 23 in Lisner Auditorium. Included on the program was "Quadrille", a formal ballet with choreography by Elizabeth Burtner. Lead couples for the number were Barbara Hepfinger and George Urick, Sue Goldstein and Jerry Osborne. "Folk Suite" was danced by Elizabeth Appleton, with her own voice and guitar accompaniment; dance assistance was rendered by Gregg Mayer and Jerry Osborne. Highlighting the concert was "Madeline", a ballet by Miss Burtner based on Ludwig Bemelman's book; Miss Mayer danced the enchanting heroine, Madeline. The straw-hatted school girls included Lenore Alexander, Judy Becker, Stephanie Davis and Miriam Levitan. Last on the program and equally delightful was a philosophical study entitled "Can I Tell What I am Like?"

R. O. T. C. Ball . . . Ball of Fire

It was the AFROTC Cadets and their dates who attended the Annual Military Ball at the Washington National Airport, March 9. Queen of the Ball was lovely Morna Campbell, KKG, escorted by Prince Consort, Franny Gleason, SAE. The All-University Ball-o-Fire, sponsored annually by Hillel, was held March 30. Highlight of the dance was the selection of Eldon Miller, SAE, as "Mr. Apollo", the University's "manliest man". Judges for the event were Margo Lucey Miss Washington 1956, Jack Rowzie, WWDC disk jockey, and Cece LeSturgeon, 1956 Homecoming Queen. Marty Zipern and Esther Zimmerman were co-chairman of the dance.

Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota was Keynote Speaker at the Annual Career Conference in March. One thousand students were on hand to hear Senator Humphrey propose a U.S. Foreign Service Academy. Twenty-three forums were set up, each featuring a particular field of interest; a student leader and panel of representatives headed each forum. Co-chairman of the conference were Ed Crump and Ray Garcia.

Afsonsa Sepahpour, a student from Iran, reigned as Queen of the University's International Night, March 5. His Excellency Ernani do Armarel Peivoto, Brazilian Ambassador to the U.S., presented the crown. Miss Sepahpour's court included twenty-five girls dressed in the traditional costumes of their native lands. Included in the outstanding entertainment presented was Washington's Estonian Folk Dance group, a flag swinging exhibition by Kasper Hunkelar of Switzerland, a classical Indian dance by Miss Prema Subramanyan, Scottish country dances by the St. Andrews Society of Washington, and a Hungarian Czardas by students of the Youlo Youry and Elizabeth School of Ballet.

Elections

It was mayhem on G Street!—almost “dangerous” for students to walk down the street as the candidates handed campaign material and favors to the passers-by. The only way out of the maze was to inform the candidates that you had already voted! But such fun! After the campus was purged of its mounds of circulars and posters the results were announced—Al Rode was the new Council President, assisted by a new slate of efficient Council officers. The faculty and students, but particularly the candidates, were glad that they only endured it for two days!

Thank you, but I've already voted!

May Day

It was the May Day program at which student leaders were honored, individual honors bestowed, and the 1957 May Queen was crowned. Beverly Bordon, Pi Phi, was chosen May Queen; May Day Princesses were Sandra Shoemaker, KKG, and Betty Kolonia, ZTA. Candidates for the honor were the girls elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Adding wit to the program, as May Day Court Jesters, were Meredith Eagon and Clayton Chadwell. Student Council officers were announced that evening, and Mortar Board, Senior Women's Honorary, and Omicron Delta Kappa, Senior Men's Honorary, tapped new members. Recipients of individual awards included Jerry Reinsdorf, Outstanding Senior Man; Bev Bordon, Outstanding Senior Woman; Betsy Evans Mortar Board award; Karin Floyd, the Colonial Boosters Andy Davis Award; Judy Jaffe, Delta Gamma prize; Ann Weise, Outstanding Big Sis; and Jerry Osborne, Order of the Scarlet Award. Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity received the IFC Scholarship Trophy, and Chi Omega and Tau Epsilon Phi won the Conial Boosters trophies.

Colonial Cruise

It was a balmy day on May 4 for the annual Colonial Cruise down the Potomac River aboard the S.S. Mt. Vernon to Marshall Hall Amusement Park. Softball, badminton, horseshoes and all the allurements of an amusement park offered a fun-filled afternoon. An evening program featured a square dance in the pavilion to the calls of University dancer Tom Pence. Faculty children reigned as King and Queen of the Cruise; Queen Beth Faith, 3-year-old granddaughter of Dr. Don C. Faith, Director of Men's Activities, and King Neil Reuben. The Cruise had interesting "mishaps" also; Neil Stull was stranded from his date who boarded the 5:30 boat ahead of him, and Charlie Tillel won forty dollars by diving overboard from the S.S. Mt. Vernon. (People do anything to make money these days!) The last boat left at 10:30 p.m. and weary Colonials danced on deck until the boat returned to Washington. Co-chairman of the successful event were Pepita Lasalle and Ed Rutsch.

All-University Follies

It was the All-University Follies which gave the school year a Grand Finale. The program, a takeoff on tryouts for a Broadway musical, was entitled "Casting Tonight". Among the performers were Dick Cook and Bert Minkin, assisted by Lynn Ray and Dave Liddick, in a comedy duet from "Kiss Me Kate"; Jackie Lovett and her "Hollywood Impressions"; a trio composed of Carol Hesse, Cathy Pendleton and Gayle Cook singing "Mucha-cha" from "L'il Abner"; singing soloists Ann Mitchell, Bill Dotson, Rita Bailey and Alan Berger; an interpretative Oriental dance by Sigrid Weeks, and Patsy Martin and Jim Tucker doing a calypso number. The Finale in the dance department of the program was the Juarez Corps de Ballet, featuring the University's Sun Bowl Heroes. Barbara Staub, Walter Propps and Lynn Ray assisted Ed Ferero in the production of the show. Vince Mortorano was stage manager; Bob Block, musical director, and Mary Manhardt, costume designer.

Hi ho, Steverino!

It was the end of the school year as G.W.U. students literally took over Ocean City, Maryland, for a few days of sun, sand and fun. Ukuleles, beverage containers, and Sea and Ski lotion dotted the beach as the swim suit-clad crew enjoyed the sun, or rain, as the case may have been. Various kinds of entertainment prevailed—some choose parties. Many journeyed the few miles up the coast to Rehoboth Beach for more merry-making. The City Treasury had never been so full as when the GWU students were there. But then, back to the big city and a job or summer school, and for some lucky ones, just plain loafing!

Commencement

It was early in the morning on June fifth that it began to rain. Throughout the day the members of the graduating class looked out windows to see if it was still raining, called up WE 6-1212 for the latest predictions, and listened to the radio for news concerning the graduation ceremonies. Late that afternoon the word finally came from the University. The elements had won; the one hundred and thirty-sixth Annual Commencement of The George Washington University was going to be held in Constitution Hall, not the University Yard, as everyone had hoped.

Congressman Hull congratulates daughter Susan.

It was that Mississippi River atmosphere that permeated the Summer Carnival and transformed the University Yard into a virtual Showboat. Refreshments paced the theme and included a G.W.U. Julip. A three-act play was given in the evening; it included a cake walk, a minstrel show, an old-fashioned melodrama, and a St. Louis jazz scene. The different schools of the University set up booths and offered such games as ball tossing, darts and balloon games, and fishing. Proceeds from the Carnival, which amounted to very little, went into the University Revolving Fund, as do the proceeds from the other big University weekends. Marcia Saslaw, acting Activities Director of the Student Council for the summer, was Chairman of the Summer Carnival.

It was as if G.W.U. were a massive I.B.M. machine and the students were the punch-cards! In one room, out the next; from line to line, building to building—will it ever cease? Information booths were handy for the bewildered or lost, and union coffee served as a stimulant (?) to keep going. The University Orientation and Curriculum Assemblies alleviated much of the confusion: Big Sisters and Old Men added that personal touch to make the new student feel at home. Placement exams, long forms to fill out, and that only too long cashier's line—let's be thankful it only happens once every semester!

Sorority Rush

"Anchors Aweigh" at Zeta Tau Alpha.

Ten day of hustle 'n bustle, parties, skits, and favors constitutes that yearly phenomenon entitled Sorority Rush. The sororities start preparations in the early summer; the rushees see the end result of months of meetings, rehearsals, midnight telephone calls, and exasperated membership chairmen.

The mechanics of sorority rush are complicated. Those who sign up for rush must attend the first party, Open House, given by each of the twelve sororities. From Open House on, the parties are by invitation only; the rushee must cut down the number of sororities she attends after each "period" of parties. Finally, the rushee may attend the preferential, or final parties, of two sororities. She then signs a preferential slip the following day.

A typical rush party includes a "line-up" of actives at the door to greet and usher in the rushee; then follows chatter, refreshments, entertainment, more chatter, presentation of favors, and an ushering out. Needless to say, the rushee's appetite is lost after sampling the refreshments of five or eight parties in one day!

After the parties, and after the rush chairman has temporarily announced that she'd never take that job again, actives and pledges alike look back at such a fun-filled ten days, and settle down to understand and partake of the more serious aspects of sorority life.

Each fall the fraternity world goes through the never-ending process known as "rush". For two brief but hectic weeks the "registered rushman" is king. Greeks go all out to be blessed with his company at lunch in the Student Union or at a rush party. He is "fixed up" with beautiful girls, deluged with telephone calls, introduced to campus celebrities, and given a carload of propaganda and free beer. Yes, for those brief two weeks the rushman is king, as shown in this pictorial coverage of the various aspects of fraternity rush.

Homecoming

"Quarterback's Dilemma" at the Variety Show.

The Pep Rally and Variety Show in Lisner was the first event of the Big Weekend—GWU Homecoming. GWU—2002, the theme of the weekend, was carried through the show and Ball. "Quarterback's Dilemma", the lively skit presented Thursday evening, was written by Don Wasserman and Stan Smith, University Students. Leading roles went to Vince Mortorano, Paul Garner and Sue Steinberg. The football players and cheerleaders were introduced to the student body by Washington radio favorite Bill Malone. George and Martha were unmasked at the show also; they were none other than Lee Russell, Chi O, and Meredith Eagon, KKG. Finale of the evening was the presentation of the Homecoming Queen candidates and the announcement of the five lovely finalists. The finalists were picked that afternoon at a judging tea at the SAE House; judges for the event were Mrs. Herbert Brownell, wife of the former Attorney General, Phyllis Bell, modeling school owner here in Washington, and Eddie Gallagher, one of D.C.'s favorite radio personalities. Ruth Reagan was Queen's Chairman.

Friday evening the Colonials played the Boston Terriers in Griffith Stadium. The rain didn't stop the hundreds of Colonial fans that attended. Voice of America was on hand at the game to record much of the festivities for broadcast overseas.

"Your Health—Physical, Mental, Spiritual and Economical" was the title of the Annual Alumnae Symposium in Lisner on Saturday, November 2. The classes of 1907 and 1932 were guests of the University at the luncheon.

Claude Thornhill's band set the pace Saturday evening in the National Guard Armory for the Homecoming Ball. Highlight of the evening was the crowning of Morna Campbell as the 1957 Homecoming Queen. Miss Campbell was the candidate of Kappa Kappa Gamma for the honor. "King" Gleason once again was in attendance. Also presented were the Homecoming finalists; Joanne Holler, candidate of Lutheran Club; Beverly Falk, Sigma Chi's candidate; Sheila McKeown, candidate of Flying Sponsors; and Sally Ludlow, candidate of Kappa Delta. Intermission also featured Omicron Delta Kappa and Gate and Key tapping as well as the presentation of cups to the winners of the Homecoming Float contest. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Delta tied for first place in the sorority division. Sigma Kappa placed second, and Chi Omega received honorable mention. In the fraternity division, Pi Kappa Alpha won first place, Delta Tau Delta placed second, and honorable mention went to Sigma Chi.

Carole Hesse and Dick Cook were the busy co-chairmen of this memorable weekend.

It was the sorority pledges that made their informal debut at the annual Goat Show given in November. Each pledge class wrote and produced an eight-minute skit. Aside from giving the University an evening's entertainment, the Goat Show is intended to strengthen the friendships in the individual pledge classes and among the groups as a whole as they work and practice together. The theme of this year's show, "Great American Wonders" was carried out in each skit, as shown by the titles which appear under the pictures on these pages.

Kappa Kappa Gamma won first place honors this year. Delta Gamma took second place, and Kappa Alpha Theta, third. Pi Beta Phi was the winner of the poster contest and Deuterons and Theta won honorable mention.

“Dirty Work at the Crossroads”

The fall Drama production “Dirty Work at the Crossroads” was a popular selection. In typical melodrama tradition, the plot revolves around Nellie Lovelace the innocent country maiden. The men in her life are Adam Oakhart, a stalwart blacksmith’s son and Munro Murgatroyd, villainous city shyster. Starring as Nellie was Polly Clainos, Bill Dotson as Adam and Bob Dolson as Munro. Others in the cast include Bernadette Wilson as the Widow Lovlace, Nellie’s mother; Norton Hardesty as Upson Asterbilt, millionaire and Carol Ross as his daughter, Leonie. This modern vehicle featured several popular musical numbers including the old favorites “All that Glitters is Not Gold” and “The Old Cuckoo Clock.”

Religion in-Life-Week

"Religion and Power" was the theme of Religion in Life Week, held November 25-27. The highlight of the week's activities was undoubtedly the symposium held in Lisner Auditorium. The subject under discussion was "Has Religion a Place in an Age of Power", and the speakers were Governor Theodore McKeldin of Maryland, Admiral Louis Strauss, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman, and James T. O'Connell, Under Secretary of Labor.

Other events included the Skeptics' Hour, class room lectures in which representatives of many faiths spoke, and special observances by the various religious groups on campus.

Holiday Season

Jan Powers and friend.

The University inaugurated a Holiday Season Committee this year to coordinate the various pre-season events traditional at the University with a hope of preserving the spirit of the season. Co-Chairmen of the highly successful event were Claire Chennault and Tim Meade.

The Program opened December 9 with the collection of toys for the University-WRC toy drive. The Student Council and Dance Production Groups sponsored a dance, the Snowball, Friday evening in the Union. Jan Powers and Bill Dotson were master and mistress of ceremonies for the evening. The Faculty Wives club sponsored a Faculty-Student Tea in Lisner Lounge Monday afternoon. The same evening, the traditional Christmas tree lighting ceremony took place on the Lisner stage. The School of Engineering donated two Christmas trees which were presented by Vincent Rider, Engineer's Council President. The evening's finale was the eighth annual presentation of the Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" by the University Glee Club and the Traveling Troubadors in cooperation with the Air Force Singing Sergeants and the Elderbrook Methodist Choir. Climaxing the ten day program was the Orphan's Party on Thursday evening. Two hundred and seventy-five underprivileged children from the northwest area attended the party as "rotating Santas" Ed Rutsch and Vance Redmond passed out gifts.

Winter Weekend

King Tut (Pete Chelas) and a black cat (his date, Margo McFeeley) reigned as the king and queen of the Mardi Gras Ball. Unfortunately from an attendance standpoint this year's Winter Weekend became an actuality with the arrival of fourteen inches of snow, the greatest storm that the District of Columbia has had in over twenty years. But for those hardy souls who braved the elements, Winter Weekend was truly one of the year's most enjoyable events. Second place honors went to Ed Rutsch, dressed as Captain Kidd. His date, Pat Rankin, came as a hula dancer. Third place went to Mike Taylor and Ann Hughes, who came clad as clowns.

The members of Tau Epsilon Phi and their dates all came adorned as Ivy Leaguers, wearing Bermuda shorts and crew neck sweaters. Winners of the House Decorations contest were Kappa Delta and, as usual, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, which won this year for the third time in a row. Co-Chairmen of this successful event were Marcia Saslaw and Bill Dotson.

Mr. Edmund P. Crump
3815 S Street, N.W.
Washington 7, D. C.

Dear Mr. Crump:

I have received the pictures of the contestants in this year's Cherry Tree Queen contest. From among these I have selected Miss Ruth Reagan as the year's Cherry Tree Queen; her two princesses are: Miss Janie Brown and Miss Carol Hollett.

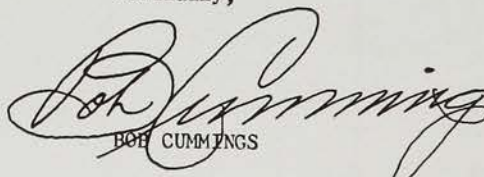

Please extend my congratulations to the beautiful queen and her two lovely princesses. My warm regards and best wishes to the other lovely contestants. All of you fellows at George Washington U are mighty lucky to have these girls around.

Thank you for allowing me to be your judge this year. It has been a most pleasant though somewhat difficult task since all of the young ladies had many qualities of beauty, personality and charm.

Many thanks for the very nice story in your excellent school newspaper.

I shall be looking forward to receiving a copy of the Cherry Tree when it is ready. Meanwhile my best wishes to you and your staff on the Cherry Tree, and kindest regards to your faculty and student body.

Cordially,

BOB CUMMINGS

P. S. We're all mighty glad you're enjoying our TV shows!

Miss Ruth Reagan

Cherry Tree Queen

Ruth Reagan, sponsored by Zeta Tau Alpha in this year's CHERRY TREE Queen contest, is a senior at the University whose list of honors is indeed impressive.

Ruth was a CHERRY TREE Princess in 1956 and was the A.F.R.O.T.C. Queen the following year. She has been very active in student activities, serving as secretary of the Student Council, Homecoming Queens chairman, and as a member of the Troubadours. In addition, she has been selected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

We of the CHERRY TREE staff proudly present to you your 1958 yearbook Queen.

*That's

it
was . . .*

From every conceivable place they came,
To administer to students in wisdom's great name.
Men and women of abundant sense,
Esteemed for learning and eloquence;
Of proper conduct, or mirth refined,
To their secretaries courteous, to their students kind.
To their offices we often retire,
Their interested guidance new joys inspire;
No other hours bring the student more content
Than those in their favorite dean's office spent.
Each lecture whets the intelligence and improves its native force,
Each professor stimulates and lauds our intelligent discourse;
Examinations are prepared that never seek to overstrain
One eager, alert, questioning little brain.
Surely the pleasure received from our administration possessing
Far surpasses all adequate expressing;
For under their tutelage we could not miss
A permanent and most sincere bliss.
And if graduation from the University no date did give,
In the intimate and scholarly atmosphere of G.W.U.
Forever would we live!

A Message from the President

To the Members of the University:—

A college annual preserves for the tomorrows, in pictorial form, the development of our student membership into responsible adults.

Herein are the records of formal and informal social events, group activities of a service nature, and of professional achievements. These all reflect with credit the progress of the student who lives in a Nation requiring exceptional leadership of its gifted citizens.

As you take THE CHERRY TREE with you, keep it as a symbol of your growth in your college community, a kind of growth which is not over but will continue as you pursue your role of community leadership the rest of your life. I know from experience that you will show "your Annual" proudly to those who may be interested in our University as a place to study and to develop through association with others within and without the classroom. In the tomorrows you will come to treasure this annual as you treasure the memories of your years at the University.

◀ THE JUNIOR COLLEGE

GEORGE MARTIN KOEHL, Dean

The Junior College was established in 1930. It includes the first two years of the four-year course in liberal arts and sciences; a two-year preprofessional program in the schools of Pharmacy, Education and Government; and the first two years of the preprofessional work required by the schools of Law and of Medicine. The Junior College also offers two-year curricula in Accounting, Home Economics, Medical Technology—Basic Course, Physical Sciences, and Secretarial Studies.

SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT ▶

JOE L. JESSUP, Assistant Dean

The School of Government was established in 1928. Undergraduate and graduate curricula are brought together to offer courses in the theory and administration of government and foreign service. The School of Government correlates social, economical, political, historical, psychological, and business studies to give students a full understanding of the responsibilities in the conduct of public office, as well as in related business and professional fields.

◀ COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

CALVIN DARLINGTON LINTON, Dean

Columbian College is that branch of the University which grants the Bachelor's and Master's degrees in the liberal arts. Its purpose is to enable the student to develop harmoniously both his particular abilities and his general awareness as a human being. It demands of the student a thorough acquaintance with one major area of learning and at the same time an understanding of how that field of specialization fits into the larger context of the scientific, social, and moral problems which confront modern man.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION ►

JAMES HAROLD FOX, Dean

The School of Education is designed to prepare teachers, supervisors, and administrators for higher ranges of educational service and to offer opportunities to experienced teachers for extension of studies. Full and part time schedules are arranged for the convenience of the students in the School of Education. The School includes the departments of Education, Home Economics and Physical Education. It offers both graduate and undergraduate work.

◄ SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

CHARLES WATSON BLIVEN, Dean

Founded in 1867, the School of Pharmacy affiliated with the University in 1906. The school is accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education as a class "A" school and is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. Access to the facilities of the American Institute of Pharmacy plus professional information from leaders in the field brought to Washington by the Institute and the Federal Government aid in the specialized training of professionally competent pharmacists.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING ►

MARTIN ALEXANDER MASON, Dean

The School of Engineering, founded in 1884 as the Corcoran Scientific School, joined the Columbian College in 1903. It became a separate division in 1914. The School of Engineering has been accredited by the Engineer's Council for Professional Development. Bachelor degrees are conferred in Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, and Electrical Engineering. Construction of Tompkins Hall has aided in the expansion of the School of Engineering.

◀ SCHOOL OF LAW

CARVILLE DICKINSON BENSON, Assistant Dean

The School of Law, over ninety years old, is the oldest law school in the District of Columbia. Law in action is observed by students in the nearby federal agencies, Supreme Court, and Legislature. The Law School, a charter member of the Association of American Law Schools founded in 1900, has been approved by the American Bar Association. The Law Library, the G.W. Law Review, and the Student Bar Association assist students training in the profession.

THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE ▶

JOHN PARKS, Dean

The School of Medicine was opened in March 1825; of the medical schools now in existence in the United States, it is the eleventh in chronological order of founding. The School is a member of the Association of American Medical Colleges and is one of the medical colleges which have been continuously approved by the American Medical Association. The degrees of the School of Medicine are recognized by all state examining boards.

◀ THE GRADUATE COUNCIL

ARTHUR EDWARD BURNS, Chairman

The Graduate Council offers a program of advanced study and research leading only to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. It provides a doctoral discipline which moves freely across administrative lines dividing departments of instruction or fields of study. The Graduate Council gives personal supervision to a limited number of students, each of whom has his own consultative committee, examinations, and research direction.

DIVISION OF SPECIAL STUDENTS ►

WARREN REED WEST, Dean

Established in 1944, the Division of Special Students includes all students who are in the process of qualifying for degree candidacy. With the fulfillment of entrance requirements and the maintenance of a specified quality point index, the student may transfer to the college of his choice. An effective advisory program has aided the rising number of students eligible for transfer to a degree granting division or college of the University.

DIVISION OF ◄ UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

ELMER LOUIS KAYSER, Dean

The Division of University Students, which was founded in 1930, is open to mature students registered in the University not interested in pursuing a course of study leading to a degree. Courses may be audited or taken for credit for a future degree. Students may transfer to a degree-granting school when able to meet the entrance requirements.

COLLEGE OF GENERAL STUDIES ►

GROVER L. ANGEL, Dean

Established in 1950 and the newest division of the University, the College of General Studies is designed to supplement adult education. The department is composed of an On-Campus Division, Off-Campus Division, and Division of Community Services including a Counseling Center and a Reading Clinic. The College gives Associate of Arts, Bachelor of Arts, and Master of Arts degrees.

*That's
how
was . . .*

Honored, indeed, are they who excel,
And in scholarship and leadership do so well.
Those who have sought and achieved great fame
Justly merit Who's Who acclaim;
Tassels and Delphi, Gate and Key,
With outstanding contributions to the University;
Mortar Boards and O.D.K.'s to one end aspire:
Ignorance their aversion, scholarship their desire.
The Student Council exemplifies the student's choice,
Serviceful activity and the student's voice!
Colonial Boosters, a spirited group, officiously strive,
To promote enthusiasm and keep school spirit alive.
Mambo with the Campus Combo Committee and you shall be taught,
How reluctance and sales resistance may be fought.
In the CHERRY TREE office the respective staffs,
Labored diligently, yet had several laughs . . .
While in the Hatchet, all the printed news was fit
And each issue one of feverish toil and extreme wit.
To be sure, the above are but a few
Of the numerous societies at G.W.U.
Yet in union they determine all that befalls
Of organized activity in these hallowed halls.
Just as solidly and certainly as they stand,
They constitute an exceedingly impressive band;
For whether it's debate, publications, or dramatic,
The entire arrangement is most democratic!

Activities

Omicron Delta Kappa

ODK's active members: FIRST ROW: G. Wilsey, J. Newheiser, W. Barley, E. Horowitz, President; R. Garcia, J. Roemer. SECOND ROW: R. Sullivan, A. Rode, B. Shuken, E. Crump, L. Wiser.

Omicron Delta Kappa is the national leadership honorary for men who are in the upper third of their class. While high scholarship is one of the requisites for membership, the organization's basic purpose is to recognize those men who have distinguished themselves as leaders in various areas of student life. Members of the faculty are selected for their contributions to University activities and honorary members are picked from leaders on the local or national scene.

The members of Omicron Delta Kappa are tapped from such varied sources as student government, publications, debate, drama and religious activities. New members are announced semi-annually at the Homecoming Ball and at May Day, and are initiated into the Alpha Delta chapter shortly thereafter.

ODK has been recognized nationally as the leadership counterpart of Phi Beta Kappa, scholarship honorary.

FIRST ROW: G. Wilsey, W. Barley, P. Truntich, B. Shuken, B. Smith, Prof. Weston, M. Cutler, R. Sullivan, E. LeBaron. SECOND ROW: R. Willson, E. Morris, V. DeAngelis, E. Horowitz, pres.; R. Sincoff, M. Farrington, Judge Myers. THIRD ROW: R. Bloch, Prof. Kline, W. Baumann, O. Schoenfelder, F. Cullen, J. Embrey, J. Van Storey, E. Crump, L. Wiser, C. Thompson, T. Brown, J. Merrow.

Mortar Board

Promoting leadership, scholarship, and service among University women is the purpose of Mortar Board, the senior women's honorary. In their endeavors they sponsor Tassels, the sophomore women's honorary; give a Smarty Party for junior and senior women maintaining a Q. P. I. of 3.0 or better; and perform in a skit at the Annual Big Sis Coffee Hour for freshman women. These campus leaders, distinguished by their white crest blazers and black skirts, also sponsor the "Lisner Lecture Series" given by University professors.

Senior women who exemplify campus leadership, high scholarship, and a willingness to contribute to activities which promote good campus life are tapped for membership at the May Day Assembly. At this assembly, also, Mortar Board honors the Outstanding Sophomore Woman.

Gate and Key

Four of the fraters, probably talking about new ways in which Gate and Key can be of service to the University.

Gate and Key, the fraternity men's honorary founded originally on the G. W. U. campus, is designed to promote the interests of the University's fraternity system. This organization taps new members, who have been first nominated by their own fraternities and then elected by the active Gate and Key chapter, at the Homecoming Dance and at the Interfraternity Council Sing.

Annually, Gate and Key awards the "Lacy Garter" to the woman on campus who has contributed most outstandingly to the University.

Members, famous for their parties, initiations and contributions both to their own organization and to the University's entire fraternity system, can be recognized by the striped ribbons they wear at all formal functions. More important, Gate and Key greatly aids in developing better interfraternity spirit and cooperation.

FIRST ROW: J. Martin, J. Lintner, M. Tarnawa, L. Locke, P. Welch, President; D. Headley, E. Horowitz, D. West. SECOND ROW: M. Zipern, J. Newheiser, E. Crump, W. Barley, N. Hardesty, B. Mencher, R. Pincus, W. Jaenicke, P. Garner. THIRD ROW: E. Miller, F. Dibbs, R. West, R. Spitalney, E. Rutsch, B. Moore, J. Roemer, J. Keilin.

Delphi

Delphi, the organization which honors sorority women for their outstanding contributions to their groups engages in many activities to promote intersorority spirit and cooperation. Members prepare a schedule of activities for the organization of fall and spring sorority rush. In addition they give a Fashion Show at the annual Big Sis Tips 'n' Tea with Topnotchers, and sponsor a pledge workshop. Organizing intersorority exchanges is the newest of Delphi's many activities and contributions to campus life.

New Delphi members are tapped at the Panhellenic Sing in the spring, after the sororities have chosen their representatives.

"Will the meeting please come to order."

Order of Scarlet

"Looks like we'll need to order more red ribbon."

The Order of Scarlet is a service honorary for sophomore and junior men. The organization was founded in the fall of 1956 by Dr. Don C. Faith, Director of Men's Activities, and several campus leaders.

Many new service projects have been originated by the group. Helping at Student Union dances, and mimeographing notices and announcements for University organizations are but a few of the ambitious undertakings of Scarlet members. One of the special tasks of the groups is to serve as a welcoming committee for visiting athletic teams.

This year's new members were tapped at the Homecoming Variety Show.

FIRST ROW: M. Propst, I. Wolfe, L. Katz, President; A. Sneeringer, N. Head. SECOND ROW: S. Porter, L. Russell, A. Brown, K. Schlageter, E. Beckman, N. Engberg, B. Oliver, B. Falk, M. Goode, M. Hoffman, B. Fretz. THIRD ROW: S. McKeown, C. Brem, J. Becker, M. Abell, L. Baumann, G. Mayer, M. Silverman.

Tassels

Tassels uses high scholastic achievement and outstanding leadership ability as a basis for its selection of members, who are chosen from the Sophomore class of women. With the annual Big Sis "Tips 'n' Tea With Topnotchers" comes the tapping of Tassels' pledges. Initiation, however, comes in the spring after the requirements for membership have been fulfilled.

Membership requires a Q.P.I. of 2.6 for women who have participated in two activities, 2.8 and one activity, or 3.0 for those with no activities. Under the guidance and supervision of Mortar Board, the senior women's honorary, Tassels engages in various service projects both on campus and off during the academic year.

Members of Tassels' executive board: Ann Marie Sneeringer, Nancy Head and Letty Katz.

Sigma Tau

Professor Ames speaking at Sigma Tau's banquet.

The national honorary engineering fraternity, Sigma Tau, strives for the recognition of personal attainment by engineering students and the encouragement of fellowship among colleagues training for the engineering profession. Membership is taken from the upper third of the junior and senior classes.

Sigma Tau engages in many activities to help the student body, the school, and the University. It offers a counseling service for engineering students and honors the sophomore student with the highest grades in engineering courses taken during his freshman year. This honor is given in recognition of the successful meeting of the difficulties which a student encounters in his first year at college.

FIRST ROW: D. White, C. Ulshafer, J. Madaris, F. Hallberg, S. Myers, President; N. Street, R. Haefs, I. Schick, J. Goto. SECOND ROW: P. Hui, L. Hatakeyama, R. Pronk, J. Ramirez, W. Jansen, B. Kransdorf, F. Ryerson, R. Browne, H. Carlson, D. Palmasani, J. Houghton, J. Milne, G. Renton.

Phi Eta Sigma

Phi Eta Sigma is the honorary which honors freshman men who maintain a quality point index of 3.5 for their first semester. Members remain in the organization until graduation, engaging in many notable service projects aimed toward helping students and the University.

In cooperation with Alpha Lambda Delta and Alpha Theta Nu, the group sponsors a tea held during fall orientation for new scholarship students.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Alpha Lambda Delta honors those freshman women whose Q. P. I. for the first two semesters has been 3.5 or above. It is an organization which endeavors to promote high scholastic achievement. To further this aim, members of this honorary sponsor a tutoring service for students of the University. In addition, senior women with a Q. P. I. of 3.5 or above for four years receive Senior Certificates. Book awards are given to members in the other classes with the highest averages.

The group's social events include a reception for entering scholarship holders, and a tea in honor of those newly selected for membership.

FIRST ROW: L. Katz, B. Evans, President; J. Hamilton. SECOND ROW: L. Baumann, B. Fretz, F. Motyka, A. Gnotta, F. Foltz, A. Sneeringer.

Pi Delta Epsilon

"... and furthermore, I read it in the Hatchet."

Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary fraternity for outstanding collegiate journalists, chooses its members from the staffs of the Hatchet, the student newspaper; the CHERRY TREE, the yearbook; Mecheleciv, the School of Engineering magazine; and Amicus Curiae, the professional newspaper for the Law School.

The purpose of Pi Delta Epsilon is to uphold the ideals of good journalism and to promote cooperation among campus publications. Membership is designed to honor students who have outstandingly contributed to the editorial or business portion of member publications. Meetings are held once a month and new members are honored at semi-annual initiation banquets.

Pi Delta Epsilon sponsors the journalism forum of the annual Career Conference.

FIRST ROW: J. Lear, D. Rosenberg, R. West, President; K. Maddock, E. Schroebel. SECOND ROW: E. Mosel, E. Auerbach, B. Evans, R. Sullivan, B. Miller, V. Rider.

Student Council

The Student Council, elected annually by a vote of the entire student body, is directly responsible to the students for the functioning of all University activities.

The Council controls and disburses organization budgets, appoints committee chairmen, approves the formation of new clubs, and sponsors various annual events, such as Homecoming, Winter Weekend, the Career Conference and May Day.

This year the Council initiated a Holiday Season program, added an inter-collegiate debate with West Point to the calendar, and took steps to improve the rules and add interest to future all-University campaigns and elections.

It also held hearings on the advisability of remunerating publication staff members, drew up proposed revisions to the Articles of Student Government, and brought up committee recommendations for the improvement of liason between students and faculty and for closer relations with alumni and part-time students.

The Council serves to encourage the growth of student leadership and responsibility at the University.

1958 Cherry Tree

The boys manage to find a couple of moments in which they can relax and enjoy the "pause that refreshes" in front of the coke machine on the third floor of the Student Union near the CHERRY TREE office where they have spent so many hours this past year working on your 1958 yearbook; you can be sure, however, that it was not long before they were back at the grind again, telling people what to do.

We hope that you enjoy the 1958 CHERRY TREE. It is the result of many hours of worry and work, and has been in the making since May Day of 1957 when the staff was first appointed by the Publications Committee of the University.

As this year's edition rolled off the presses of the Benson Printing Company in Nashville, Tenn., a long and sometimes trying job came to an end for the members of this year's staff. Contained in these 256 pages is the final result of manning booths in the Union, writing and editing copy, scheduling picture appointment times for both individuals and for groups, selling advertisements, reading proofs, and the hundreds of other items that go into any yearbook.

At this time we of the yearbook staff would like to express our appreciation to Tom Beale who has helped us so much by the outstanding job that he has done taking pictures of all the organizations here at school, an extremely difficult job at best.

Campus Combo

"Let's put this poster in Monroe."

The Campus Combo embraces all major activities at the University and combines their availability in one book of tickets. This past year the Combo included Homecoming, Colonial Boosters membership, Winter Weekend, the Colonial Cruise, Dance and Drama productions and the CHERRY TREE.

The Combo makes available to students many University activities at a saving, thus helping the student, while at the same time guaranteeing support to the activity. A vigorous sales campaign was held during registration in the fall under the direction of Co-Chairmen Warren Barley and Phyllis Charnley.

The Campus Combo operates under the supervision of the Student Council, and it is that group which picks the Combo Co-Chairmen.

Colonial Boosters

The Colonial Boosters is composed of the peppiest and the most spirited of all the University students. Apathetic students don't get very far with organization, for they feel there is no place for them in the group or at G. W. U.

Boosters sponsors and directs the pep rallies before the football games. The car cavalcades and half-time entertainment at the sports events are also the results of Booster efforts. They encourage Greek competition and have a special Booster section of reserved seats at all sports events. Booster points are awarded for participation in these activities and, at the end of the year, Booster Cups are presented to the fraternity and sorority who have done the most to promote school spirit.

The Boosters strive to coordinate the school spirit and use it as a force to create more interest in the University, thereby making the students proud to be a part of G. W. U.

Drama Production Groups

ED FERRO
Director of Dramatic Activities

The University Dramatic Players have provided, for the entertainment and interest of students and faculty members, three first-class thespian productions. However, some of the main work of this organization is not seen by the public. Students do much work backstage, gaining experience in lighting, scenery, decoration, prop management and costuming.

A Dramatics Workshop was formed to teach stage skills to newcomers, and to permit them to practice these skills for the edification of one another. A few Workshop members at a time present one-act plays before the other members of the group for both entertainment purposes and for constructive criticism. This enables the participants to receive the necessary experience to face an audience and present the polished versions which are seen by the University.

This year during the fall, under the directorship of Ed Ferero, the group presented an old-fashioned melodrama entitled Dirty Work at the Crossroads. During the spring, they lent their talents to a drama, and later in the spring, they participated in the All U Follies.

A job well done.

The University Glee Club is directed by the talented Dr. Harmon and accompanied by his charming wife. The group has lent its talents to many of the University functions throughout this past academic year. Included among these activities are the Freshman Orientation Week program, the Homecoming Pep Rally-Variety Show, the Summer Carnival, and the many dances given by the Student Council.

Their special forte is their annual presentation of "The Messiah" by Handel. This treat for the ears is held during the Holiday Season, just before Christmas recess. At this program the group is joined by the members of the Air Force Singing Sergeants.

All persons interested in singing with the Glee Club may audition for "Doc" Harmon at the beginning of each fall semester.

Troubadours

Dr. Harmon and his lovely wife again directed the activity of the George Washington University super-singers, the Troubadours. Under the Harmon guidance the group rehearsed, and rehearsed and rehearsed, and as traditionally expected, gave outstanding performances throughout the academic year. Trips to Thule Greenland during the Christmas holidays, and to Romantic Spain during the summer recess highlighted the year. The Troubadour concert was a well-attended event and the group's participation during the school year welcomed.

Dance Production Group

Hold on, Jerry!

The Dance Production Groups supply color and gaiety to University functions and serve to give those students interested in dance an opportunity to practice their skills, learn new techniques, and put them on display for public approval.

The Groups are often called upon to demonstrate their agility at the Glee Club concerts, at May Day, at the All U Follies, and at the Summer Carnival. As their specialty, they present their own spring recital, a program which includes a series of original dances choreographed

General Alumni Association

Dr. Derrick, Miss Berryman, Judge Kirkland, and Mr. Hastings.

Twenty-five groups make up a national-wide network of loyal University Alumni Clubs. These clubs range in location from Los Angeles, California to Boston, Massachusetts and include overseas clubs in Hawaii, the Philippine Islands and Puerto Rico.

Among Alumni Club activities are dinners, receptions and informal meetings. Members of the University staff often travel to these functions and help to keep alumni informed on what is happening at the University. The highlight of most Club's programs is the meeting on George Washington's birthday.

Another function of the Alumni Clubs is to recommend young men as candidates for the Alumni Scholarships awarded annually.

Each year the General Alumni Association presents the Alumni Achievement Award to outstanding alumni of the University. The award is based on distinguished accomplishment in a field and service to the University.

In June 1957 the Alumni Achievement Award recipients were Dr. William S. Derrick, Chief Anesthesiologist at Anderson Memorial Hospital, Houston, Texas; Miss Florence Seville Berryman, Art Critic of The Washington Star; and Mr. George S. Hastings, Vice-President of the American Machine and Foundry Company of New York City.

At the University's 136th Annual Commencement held in Constitution Hall past Association President James R. Kirkland presented these three alumni to President Marvin who conferred upon each of them the Alumni Achievement Award.

President Marvin meets with New Orleans alumni Jacobs A. Gorman and Donald A. Spiker.

OTTO W. SCHOENFELDER
President, General Alumni Association

Dear Fellow Alumni:

Your General Alumni Association is the organization which represents 30,000 graduates of our University. It plays an important role in the dynamic program for development of The George Washington University.

Purposes of our Association are to provide every graduate with the opportunity and means to continue his friendships, to assist in advancing the interests of all University alumni, to support the program of the University and contribute financially to its growth, and to interest worthy students in attendance at the University.

In the furtherance of these objectives, the Association sponsors each Fall a Homecoming Luncheon and Symposium and works with the student committee on the Homecoming Dance. On these occasions we are happy to greet a large number of returning "Grads." In the Spring the top event is the Annual Alumni Luncheon. During the year our alumni throughout the nation represent their University at high school college-nights. In addition, they meet periodically with one of the twenty-five regional Alumni Clubs or one of the Washington area alumni organizations.

We heartily welcome to the alumni ranks members of the Class of 1958 and urge you to take an active part in the progressive growth of The George Washington University. Our best wishes to all of you for the days ahead.

Sincerely,
OTTO W. SCHOENFELDER
President

Old Men

"Don't we look like proud papas!"

Old Men is the male counterpart of Big Sis, aiding the University by introducing the new male student to the campus by helping him through the orientation program, and with registration for classes. The Old Men program consists of the "Glad Hand Greeting," and the "Celebrity Smoker." Both of these functions serve to introduce the new male students to prominent campus leaders.

With Big Sis, Old Men sponsors a mixer for new students, followed by a square dance. Old Men also has an annual workshop for new members held in conjunction with Big Sis.

Qualifications for membership in Old Men include a scholastic average of 2.0 and one activity, insuring that the members be capable students, acquainted with the University both academically and socially.

Big Sis

The Big Sisters of the University are a representative group of girls who have volunteered to introduce new women to The George Washington University. The job of the Big Sis is to orient the new woman with the ways of the University, help her with registration, guide her to the teas and social events of Orientation Week, and help her begin classes.

Big Sis also sponsors many activities throughout the year such as the Nosebag Lunches and the Gypsy Smorgasbord. These help its members keep in touch with their "Little Sisters" during the school year.

Requirements for Big Sis include activities and scholarship, so one can be sure its members are truly well-rounded individuals, acquainted with all the University has to offer.

"Let's practice our Big Sis-terly smiles."

Religious Council

The Religious Council is guided by Dr. Joseph Sizoo, Millbank Professor of Religion at the University. This group supervises the religious activities on campus, beginning the year with a tea for the incoming freshmen during Orientation Week.

One of the most pleasant undertakings of the Religious Council is the sponsorship of chapel service every Wednesday, an activity greatly enriching the spiritual lives of all G. W. U. students.

The highlight of the religious year was Religion in Life Week, during which time there were meetings sponsored by the various religious groups on campus, teas, forums and other programs of interest. Also, during this week, special speakers were brought in to talk to the various organizations and panel discussions were held.

Members of the Religious Council are elected from all the religious groups on campus.

Newman Club

The Newman Club, associated with the Newman Clubs all over the country, provides religious experience and fellowship for the Catholic members of the University. Its attempt is to enrich the lives of the members by a greater understanding of their faith. In this endeavor, discussion groups are held and special speakers and programs are featured.

During Religion in Life Week this organization holds Sunday Mass and Communion Breakfast for its members.

The social side of life is not forgotten. The Celebrity Capers is an annual affair at which time the ten most deserving seniors are presented with Certificates of Merit.

The Newman Club is open to all Catholic students at the University. Father Jerome Miller and Father Owen Granville are the advisers.

Hillel Foundation

"Not that one!"

Under the auspices of the B'nai B'rith, the Jewish students at the University belonging to the Hillel Foundation completed another year of religious, cultural and social fellowship. This organization, open to all Jewish students, is one of the most active on campus.

Services are held each Friday afternoon and the High Holy Days are commemorated each year. Understanding is a part of belief, and to this end the group holds discussions, forums, and panel discussions, featuring special speakers.

The annual Ball o' Fire, sponsored by Hillel, is an outstanding school event, at which time takes place the crowning of the winner of the popular Mr. Apollo contest.

The group publishes the Hillel Surveyor, a literary magazine, and sponsors an annual creative writing contest which is open to the entire student body.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union is a religious organization designed to meet the spiritual needs of students on campus. It coordinates activities between area churches and students, and it sponsors functions such as weekly noon-day meetings for lunch and fellowship, followed by a short devotional study period; monthly meetings for the showing of films and discussions; weekend retreats; and weekly evening meetings during the summer. The George Washington University chapter sends representatives to the bi-annual conferences for Baptist students throughout the entire country.

The Baptist Student Union means fellowship, friendship, and meaningful living.

Bill Houston, then president of the Baptist Student Union, helps in the presentation of a University chair to Dr. Sizoo in appreciation for his many contributions to the University's religious program.

Lutheran Student Association

The Luther Club meets each Friday afternoon in Building O. This club carries on an extremely active and ambitious program, which includes Bible study, picnics, conventions, and similar functions which promote fellowship among the Lutheran students here on campus. As part of the club's "Know Your Religion" Program, speakers from various denominations have spoken at meetings throughout the year, thus giving the club's members a greater insight into the religious beliefs of others. Officers are: Martha Propst, president; Arlene Roeber, vice-president; Ann Bitner, secretary; and Karlota Koester, treasurer.

Westminster Foundation

The Westminster Foundation is the Presbyterian Church college group at the University. It aims to promote fellowship among its members through cooperation in educational and social projects.

The Foundation sponsors a varied program of lectures, discussions, and parties. Weekly meetings are taken up with informal parties and discussions pertaining to current problems.

By recognizing the need of each student for recreational as well as further educational opportunities, the Westminster Foundation therefore plays an important part in the lives of its members.

Student Christian Fellowship

The Student Christian Fellowship is an interdenominational organization primarily for students who are not represented by an active religious group on campus. However, all students are invited to become members. The organization sponsors weekly meetings for the purpose of having lunch and discussions with one another, thereby promoting fellowship among its members. Its activities include worthy social work in the metropolitan area, such as having parties for underprivileged children.

The members of the Student Christian Fellowship work together in a common bond although they are from various denominations. The Fellowship epitomizes friendship and service.

FIRST ROW: D. Bedford, J. McLane, President; D. Marshall.
SECOND ROW: D. Urich, F. Snakenberg.

Christian Science Organization

The Christian Organization was established at The George Washington University in 1931, to promote orderly growth in the study of the religion for all Christian Scientists on campus, and to represent the national Christian Science movement here on campus.

Regular meetings are held weekly in Building O. A lecture is given each spring to the group by a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, and in the fall, new students are invited to an orientation reception.

Strong Hall Dorm Council

"You two take the melody, we'll sing harmony."

Strong Hall, one of the two women's dormitories at the University, houses 110 G. W. U. coeds. The Strong Hall Council is its governing body, and is composed of girls from each floor and the dorm president. This past year the Council directed social activities and enforced dormitory rules and regulations.

In the fall, the Council sponsored a buffet dinner for the residents of both Strong and Madison halls to acquaint the new girls with their University home and to give the older girls a chance to meet socially before classes began. The whole year was dotted with dormitory functions, such as the Faculty Tea held in December, always an anxiously awaited event. The seniors were feted in May with a special tea in their honor.

The Council originated and perpetuated these plans, making the dormitory as much a home as a residence.

Madison Hall Dorm Council

This year the George Washington University was proud to add to its facilities a new women's dormitory, Dolly Madison Hall. As in the case of Strong Hall, the Madison Hall Dormitory Council is the officiating body, directing all social activities in the dorm and supervising the adherence to all rules and regulations.

In its aim to make the dormitory a "home away from home," the new council busily and successfully prepared a program of many socials, teas, and sponsored a contest for the most cleverly decorated rooms.

Alpha Theta Nu

Alpha Theta Nu is the scholarship holders' honorary and service organization at The George Washington University. The organization's main service project is to orient perspective University students while they are still in high school. Having forums and assemblies with G. W. U. advisors are a part of this project. Other group activities include ushering at Lisner Auditorium, giving teas, and setting up booths during Freshman Orientation.

Alpha Theta Nu, established for students who hold or have held scholarships at the University, provides, through its many worthy activities, a common ground in friendship and cooperation for its members.

Women's Athletic Association

"Just look at that shine."

The Women's Athletic Association is the coordinating center for all women's sports events. Acting as the supervising body of this recreational program, this group sponsors the events which lead to a sport-conscious female student body. Each girl is given the chance to participate in its program of varied sports, at least one appealing to every interest.

WAA sponsors a Sports Day with nearby colleges to promote spirited competition among the area schools, along with a feeling of unity among the G. W. U. girls.

Awards are given each year to deserving girls. The Athlete of the Year is chosen, letter awards are given to those girls who have won them, and The Outstanding Senior Athlete is presented at the annual awards dinner.

Emanon

Emanon is a group which evolved out of the creative genius of Dr. Faith and Miss Kirkbride, and was formed this year by them and a group of several interested students. The purpose of this organization is to further better Greek relations on campus.

The social chairmen of all the sororities and fraternities compose the membership of Emanon. Co-chairmen are selected on a yearly basis and a Board of Directors on a semester basis.

One of the main functions of this group is to publish a booklet for the benefit of social chairmen, containing the names and telephone numbers of bands, hotel rooms, and other facilities that might be needed for Greek social functions.

In case you're wondering—Emanon spelled backwards is "no name."

Phi Delta Gamma

Phi Delta Gamma, a national fraternity for graduate women, is the only fraternity open to women of all professions studying in graduate or advanced professional schools. Membership requires good character, high scholastic standards, leadership, and a cooperative spirit. The organization aims for the advancement of standards in graduate study, the promotion of high ideal among graduate women, and the improvement of the professional and social status of career women. Through their meetings members meet women with varied interests and add to their own views through the intergroup discussions which ensue.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club of the George Washington University, as a member of the Middle Atlantic Conference of International Relations Clubs, serves to promote interest and understanding in this area among the students of the University.

Meetings were held during the year to talk about current affairs, world problems, and both national and international actions. Speakers of prominence were brought in to discuss varying phases of the world situation. The meetings served as question and answer periods, attempting to make clear to all the members, the rise and reasons behind world problems, and the steps the various participants are taking to solve them.

N. S. E. A.

The National Students' Educational Association is a brand new name for an old group on campus. The organization was previously known as the Future Teachers of America. It is a professional organization open to students majoring in education.

The purpose of this group is to foster interest in the teaching profession and to provide information pertaining to the profession for students who plan to make teaching their careers. Thus, a professional spirit is developed among its members, along with an understanding of the place of the teacher in the modern world.

Alpha Pi Epsilon

The Home Economics honorary fraternity for high scholarship, Alpha Pi Epsilon, aims to promote interest in the University's home economics department. It also endeavors to further the social life and professional goals of its members. The fraternity has been in existence on the campus of George Washington University for twenty-five years. Not only does Alpha Pi Epsilon have both a college chapter and alumnae chapter, but it also sponsors the Home Economics Club. Members must maintain an overall quality point index of 2.5, and a 3.0 Q.P.I. in their major courses. At meetings there are lectures and social events which reflect the various aspects of the field of home economics.

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club is designed to stimulate interest in future scientists in the field of chemistry and to develop in them a knowledge of its related fields. The club is open to any student of the University who is taking or has taken at least one course in chemistry.

In addition to experiments, demonstrations, lectures, and visual aids, the club sponsors many activities and programs, which any University students may feel free to attend. This group also takes charge of the chemistry forum at the annual Career Conference.

Members benefit from association with others who mutually share their interest in trying to attain a goal of clearer scientific understanding.

Alpha Zeta Omega

And furthermore I read it in the Percolator.

Alpha Zeta Omega Pharmaceutical Fraternity was founded in 1919 by eleven students of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science. Today the fraternity has over twenty-five chapters throughout the nation.

The underlying purpose of the fraternity is the advancement, through mutual aid, of knowledge in its members who are interested in the pharmaceutical field. This idea is continually practiced, as evidenced by the local scholarship award presented annually at a dinner honoring the recipient, and the national Culture Fund.

Engineer's Council

"Well, that about wraps it up for tonight."

The Engineers' Council is the student governing body of the School of Engineering and represents the students in all matters pertaining to student activities. In addition, the Council serves as a liaison body between the students and faculty of the School of Engineering, and the engineering students and the student government of the University.

The Council is composed of one faculty adviser and nineteen student representatives who represent every class and every major student activity in the School of Engineering. Student representatives are elected in the spring of the year for a term of one year.

The Council sponsors the Engineers' Mixer and the Engineers' Banquet and Ball, outstanding social events of the School of Engineering each year. The Council also acts as the Board of Directors for Mecheleciv, student magazine, publishes the Engineers' Guide, student handbook, sponsors the Engineers' intramural teams, and presents decorated Christmas trees to the University each year during the holiday season.

Mecheleciv

"How many more to go?"

Mecheleciv, the student magazine of the School of Engineering, is published six times a year for and by the engineering students. It features student technical articles and prize papers, news of the engineering school and its alumni, and several regular features such as a problem page, joke page, and news on industrial developments.

The magazine is published by a staff of student volunteers under the guidance of the Board of Editors. The Editors, in turn, are responsible to the Engineers' Council which acts as the Board of Directors. Mecheleciv is a member of Engineering College Magazines Associated, a national organization.

The magazine provides students with the opportunity to gain experience in technical writing and publication procedures. An additional aim is to further interest in School of Engineering and University activities among students and alumni.

Theta Tau

Theta Tau, the oldest professional engineering fraternity in the country, is represented on The George Washington University campus by Gamma Beta Chapter, established in 1935.

The purpose of Theta Tau is to promote a high standard of professional interest among student engineers and to unite students in various fields of engineering in a bond of fellowship. The fraternity's membership requirements are such that it does not compete with social fraternities, engineering societies, or honoraries.

Theta Tau's social schedule includes an Initiation Banquet and Ball in both fall and spring semesters, a family picnic in the summer, a Shrimp Feast traditionally held on Veteran's Day, and other parties and beer busts throughout the school year.

Each year the chapter provides a plaque to be awarded to a student selected by a panel of faculty members as the outstanding senior engineer.

Joint Branch AIEE • IRE

"This one looks . . . quiet interesting!"

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers, operating as a joint branch, are the two student professional organizations of Electrical Engineering. Although the two societies are integrated in the joint branch, a student may join either or both of them.

The A.I.E.E., founded in 1884, promotes the advancement of theory and practice in electrical engineering and the maintenance of high professional standards among its members.

The I.R.E., founded in the infancy of radio communication, is devoted to the advancement of theory and practice in communications, electronics, and similar fields.

During the year, the joint branch sponsors lectures by engineers in government and industry. The program is varied by movies and field trips to nearby engineering installations. Both societies hold student paper contests every year.

A. S. M. E.

The George Washington University Student Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers is sponsored by the Washington Section. Membership is open to students interested in the field of mechanical engineering.

The chapter's activities include movies and lectures by outstanding men in the field. The programs are planned to give students an introduction to the field of mechanical engineering and an opportunity to discuss new developments with professional engineers.

To encourage original research and study on the part of its members, the chapter sponsors an annual prize paper contest which is open to all undergraduate members of the chapter. The John Cannon Award money and certificates of achievement are used to reward the writers of the best papers.

A. S. C. E.

The American Society of Civil Engineers, the oldest engineering professional society in America, was founded in 1852 to differentiate civil or civilian engineers from military engineers. The George Washington University Student Chapter was organized in 1923. Membership may be held by candidates for degrees in Civil Engineering or Bachelor of Science in Engineering.

The purpose of A.S.C.E. is to supplement theoretical knowledge with practical knowledge in the field of engineering. To accomplish this aim, the chapter sponsors field trips, lectures, and movies throughout the year.

The chapter recognizes personal achievement by giving an annual award to the student who has contributed the most to A.S.C.E. during the year. The student chapter works with the national society in conducting student paper contests.

Student Bar Association

"Professor Walburn, how do you like the program Ed Le-Baron, Fred Schmitt, and I have drawn up for Law Day?"

The Student Bar Association is a charter member of the American Law Student Association. This past year the University's SBA received recognition as the outstanding Student Bar Association in the country. The primary aims of the SBA are the promotion of professional and social activities among the Law School Student body, the recognition and encouragement of scholastic achievement, and the maintenance of the high reputation of the Law School.

The activities sponsored by the SBA are many and varied. These activities include the running of a student book exchange, the presentation of a series of movies, the holding of smokers, and the publication of a directory of all of the law students enrolled in the University. Congratulations are in order for President Chuck Thompson and the other SBA members for a most successful year.

G. W. Law Review

"According to Corpus Juris . . ."

The George Washington Law Review is a bi-monthly publication that is edited by the faculty and students of the Law School. Its board of student editors is chosen each year on the basis of scholarship.

The publication is devoted to the study of federal and state public law and consists of articles on current legal problems by prominent authorities, as well as commentaries by students on recent decisions in federal and state courts.

Recently the George Washington Law Review was awarded first place in a national competition among law school journals, sponsored by the Fletcher Foundation, of Rosemead, California, for "the most outstanding presentation of articles . . . case notes and reviews in the field of patents."

Case Club

The Van Vleck Case Club is one of the most worthwhile extracurricular activities in the law school, for it offers students an opportunity to prepare written briefs and to present oral arguments on actual cases. The competition begins in the spring with the holding of the preliminary rounds, followed by the semi-finals, and then, the final rounds after the field has been narrowed to only four men. Cases are decided upon style and presentation of the arguments in the written briefs, clearness and manner of presentation of the oral arguments, ability to respond to searching questions by the court, and persuasiveness of the points of law presented.

The Ensonian Debate Society, operating under the supervision of the Speech Department of the University is an activity open to all students interested in debating and public speaking.

The Society aims to develop in its members a broader knowledge and understanding of correct debating technique and Forensics. This is done through a discussion of mutual problems when the members gather for extra-curricular debate sessions.

This group meets in Lisner Auditorium, where its members enjoy trial debates and discussions before actually entering into formal debates in competition with other schools.

"To provide military and academic education and training to university students and to select and motivate these students for service in the U. S. Air Force"—this is the mission of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps. During the two-year basic course and the two-year advanced course, cadets attend academic classes designed to acquaint them with current air power concepts and to provide them with the fundamentals of how individuals and nations live in a world society. Classroom procedures emphasize the principles of leadership which are taught in the weekly Leadership Laboratory periods. These courses are integrated with the program of the University of Colonel Carl Swyter, Director, Division of Air Science, and his staff of Officers and Airmen. The result of these combined programs is the preparation of individuals to assume leadership of intelligent, informed, and responsible citizens in the Air Age.

In addition to the formal academic classes and sessions on the field, the Cadet Corps participates in extra-curricular activities such as the Bethesda Christmas Parade and the Cherry Blossom Festival, and represents the University in many other civic functions. Annually Air Force ROTC cadets serve as escorts for the Homecoming Queen Candidates at the Pep Rally and Variety Show. In connection with the Flying Indoctrination Program, several flights are made each year to Air Force bases and to civilian aircraft corporations.

At this University, the Corps is organized as a Group, with Cadet Colonel Robert R. Reining Jr. as Group Commander. The Group is composed of the Angel Flight, the Rifle Squadron, and two other numbered squadrons. The squadrons are subdivided into flights. This organization enables cadets to become acquainted with the administration and operation that is used in actual Air Force units and provides an opportunity for all advanced cadets to assume positions of leadership. This year the detachment was selected to participate in the AFROTC Flight Instruction Program. This program provides 35 hours of light-plane training for advanced course seniors qualified for pilot training. Flight Instruction is provided by CAA approved civilian flying school operators at no expense to the cadet. In 1956 The George Washington University was chosen as one of the ten colleges in the nation to offer the WAF ROTC program. This year for the first time there are cadettes eligible for commissions through an AFROTC program.

The Angel Flight, established three years ago at the instance of President Cloyd H. Marvin, is an auxiliary marching unit which participates with the corps in Leadership Laboratory and other parades. Cadet Barbara Suse, an original member of the Angel Flight and now a WAF cadette is the first woman to serve on the Group Staff.

The Pershing Rifles, established here in 1953, is an honorary primarily for basic cadets. The organization specializes in precision drill, and participates in competition with other ROTC Units. The Commander is Cadet Major F. J. Holmes and the advisor is Captain H. R. Henthorne.

Another extra-curricular group associated with the AFROTC is the Flying Sponsors Squadron, composed of girls who give active and wholehearted assistance to all military and social functions of the corps. The Sponsors are known to the Group chiefly through their frequent noontime exchanges with the cadets in the cadet lounge.

The AFROTC rifle team participates in both shoulder to shoulder and postal matches with teams from other universities. The team is coached by Technical Sergeant Gerald Purcell. Cadet Airman First Class Phil Pendleton is the team captain.

The Group's activities are reported in the cadet newspaper, The Colonial Cadet, which is written and published by and for the cadets. Cadet Information Services Officer, Cadet Major Stuart Riggsby is the editor.

The Panhellenic Council and the I.F.C.
Teach the true significance of fraternity;
Their ambition is to foster inter-sorority and fraternity
spirit,
And they achieve their noble goal, or something near to
it.
If from their stalwart principles they chance ever to lose hold,
The two Activity Directors will lead them back to the fold.
Yet here the theme is of fraternal life,
Its joys and pleasures, its strain and strife;
Blest be, then, the tie that binds
Our sorority and our fraternity minds.
There are fraternity houses and sorority halls,
The scenes of exchanges, coffee hours, and balls;
And friendly competition sometimes springs,
During elections, rush, and often sings.
Each group maintains a distinctive personality,
While within the brothers and sisters retain their individuality;
For although the members are different in kind,
United in esoteric bonds, they are similar in mind.
All fly to serve the other's ends,
Possessing no thought of dividends;
Each member would sacrifices gladly make,
Knowing it to be for friendship's sake.
Thus united in the beginning, and at the journey's end,
Each brother and each sister will always be a friend!

The oldest chapter in continuous existence at GW, the brothers of Epsilon chapter of Sigma Chi maintain a fine tradition and a boisterous sense of brotherhood. This year saw them setting a new precedent on campus when Mrs. Barrow became their house mother.

Individually the brothers maintain a fine tradition of participation in student activities. Tom Varley served as Comptroller of the Student Council, while Paul Truntich was Member at Large. Hal Bergem was assistant to the Student Council Advocate. In I. F. C. Wylie Barrow held the position of treasurer. On the Hatchet staff Brother Truntich was a member of the Board of Editors, while Tom Varley worked on the business side as Advertising Manager. The sports section of the CHERRY TREE was the job of Paul Welch. The varsity football team was co-captained by Bob Jewett, with Ray Looney and Dick Claypool very distinguished members of the team.

Honors came to the brothers. Paul Truntich was initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary for college men. Paul Welch was president of Gate and Key, fraternity men's honorary. Brother Truntich was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The Sigs' ability to work together won them intramural championships in volleyball and badminton. The fun of partying together was enjoyed through a year of exchanges and weekend parties. Highlight of the social year was the annual Sweetheart Dance in December when Marby Adams was crowned the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

Close in the bonds of brotherhood the members of Sigma Chi can look back on a year worthy of their fine tradition.

The past year found the brothers of Kappa Sigma in a new location. Last summer Alpha Eta chapter moved from the isolated majesty of their Massachusetts Avenue house to a new house at 910 23rd Street.

There remained, however, the same Kappa Sig spirit and participation in school activities. Audiences in Lissner saw Norton Hardesty in productions of the University Players. Readers of the Hatchet and CHERRY TREE were amused by the cartoons of Brother Hardesty.

On the social side, the brothers came together to celebrate the annual Christmas Party and the chapter birthday party. More formally, the brothers danced at the Black and White Formal and the Spring Formal and toasted Maio Owen, the Kappa Sigma Stardust Queen.

A busy year for the Kappa Sigs was enriched by the bonds of brotherhood encircling the members of Alpha Eta chapter.

Enjoying the luxury of their New Hampshire Avenue chapter house, the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa work together in a bond of close unity to further their chapter individually and to the enrichment of the University.

Their close harmony brought them second place in the I. F. C. Sing. Support of the Colonial Boosters pep rallies, house decoration contests and float parades brought them the second place Colonial Boosters award. The Members of Phi Sigma Kappa were league champions in basketball.

As individuals, Phi Sigs are active on campus. Bob Dolson, always prominent in University Players Productions, was the much hissed at villain of the Fall melodrama, while stout hearted Bill Dotson was the much applauded hero. A member of Troubadours, Bill Dotson also headed up the Winter Weekend Committee of the Student Council. Dan Kosek serves on the Student Union Board. Steve Mohler is president of the Spanish Club. John Lintner was active as Business manager of Winter Weekend.

Honors coming to the brothers included Phi Beta Kappa membership to Otto Ulrich. Jim Newheiser was initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary for men, and named by Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

On the social side, the pledge class of Phi Sigma Kappa again held the Miss Model Pledge Contest. The Christmas Formal saw Val Berman crowned as Phi Sig Moonlight Girl. Founders' Day Banquet, the Carnation Ball and the annual outing at Chapawonsig completed a distinguished year for the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa.

NUMBER OF CHAPTERS: 142

COLORS: PURPLE AND GOLD

FLOWER: VIOLET

This past year is one that the members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon can look back upon with justifiable pride, for success was theirs both within their fraternity and on campus.

Two brothers, Sam Toggas and Franny Gleason served the University as members of the Student Council. Warren Barley was co-chairman of the extremely successful Campus Combo Committee, as well as Business Manager of the 1958 CHERRY TREE. Eldon Miller was the co-chairman of the Career Conference and Vice-President of the Inter Fraternity Council. Carl Scrivener was appointed co-chairman of the Student Liason Committee, and Bill Frank was the Business Manager of the Student Handbook. Ed Crump was the Editor of the CHERRY TREE.

Varsity athletics found Franny Gleason as co-captain of the football team. Mike Sommer, the first draft choice of the Washington Redskins, was voted the Colonials outstanding player and was chosen to the All-Southern Conference team, as well as being the recipient of honorable mention on the All-America team. Turning to golf, Vic Bartlett again starred as a member of the golf team.

Brother Warren Barley joined Ed Crump as a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, men's national leadership honorary. Four brothers, Franny Gleason, Mike Sommer, Warren Barley and Sam Toggas were represented in Who's Who. Brother Barley was joined by two new brothers in Gate and Key, Eldon Miller and Ed Crump. Carl Scrivener and Dave Trask were tapped by the Order of Scarlet.

SAE's twenty-one pledges helped the brothers celebrate the Bal Boheme, the Spring Formal, the Christmas Party, and the traditional Pre-Ocean City Party. Even Gindratt, the SAE mascot for eight years and often an extremely critical judge, agreed that 1958 was an outstanding year for Washington City Rho and its members.

The only national fraternity to be founded at GW, Phi Alpha maintained its fine reputation this year as a fraternity able to combine athletic and scholastic honors.

The All University Athletic Trophy and the Most Improved Scholarship Trophy both went to the brothers of Phi Alpha. This brought the Phi Alpha record to a winning of the athletic cup four years in a row, with the scholarship cup having been won five out of the last eight years also by Phi Alpha.

Individually the members were active on campus. Don Sinrod was chairman of the I. F. C. Sing. Ron West worked on the CHERRY TREE staff, and served as president of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary. Richard Pincus and Barty Meyers were members of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic honorary.

On the lighter side, the Phi Alpha social program ran the gamut from the formal Rose Ball, to a highly informal Gangster Party, with a Christmas Party, a Pajama Party and a Spring Weekend rounding it out.

With a fine spirit of brotherhood and pride in their fraternity, the brothers of Phi Alpha can look back to a successful year.

Friendliness and an interest in student activities mark the brothers of Sigma Nu.

Ray Garcia co-chaired the 1957 Career Conference. Frank Gregory and Viris Cromer were active in University debate activities. John Harrison helped plan the Welcome Week schedule as vice president of Old Men. Viris Cromer worked on the Hatchet staff. Charles Stores served as Old Men Treasurer. Concern of the band situation of the University led Dick Wills to reorganize the University band and work to improve its program. Viris Cromer served on the Student Council appointed Music Committee, set up to develop a music program at the University.

Honaries counted Sigma Nus among their members. Ray Garcia was elected secretary of Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary for college men. Brother Garcia also served as secretary for Gate and Key, fraternity men's honorary, and president of the Order of Scarlet. His many activities and sterling service to the University won him recognition in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Brother Gregory was a member of Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic honorary, and of Order of Scarlet.

Good food and congenial atmosphere made dinners at the Sigma Nu house a delight for many. The same spirit of friendliness prevailed through all the Sigma Nu parties and exchanges. The Frontier Ball and the Spring Banquet topped the social schedule of the spring, while fall was highlighted by the White Rose Formal. Sigma Nus can look back on a year of friendly brotherhood and accomplishment.

"TEPs are tops" is the motto of the brothers living at 908 23rd Street. Here the members of Tau Epsilon Phi band together in close fellowship and work to develop the internal unity and strength that is their hallmark.

The brothers support the University as a unit. Attendance at rallies with the lavender and white banner of Tau Epsilon Phi, participation in float parades, competition in house decorations all serve to demonstrate TEP support of the University and school spirit. Last year saw their activities recognized with the first place Colonial Boosters cup.

Brother Marty Zippert was active in Gate and Key. His salesmanship ability was a leading factor in the large sales record of the Campus Combo.

JoAnne Feingold was crowned TEP sweetheart. Brothers strengthened bonds of brotherhood in a gala Spring Weekend. National perspective was gained at the Regional Conclave in Philadelphia.

A year of fellowship, a year of close unity, TEPs can remember 1958 with happy memories.

Up in their Pennsylvania Avenue abode, the brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon cherish a deep sense of brotherhood that gives heightened significance to their college experience.

Together they party in a rich fraternity spirit. Fall saw the new pledge class feted at the annual Pledge Formal. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Elaine Engel, Zeta Tau Alpha, as Teke Pledge Queen. Spring found the fraternity celebrating the annual Triangle Ball and attending the Founders' Day Banquet.

Musical harmony brought the brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon third place in the Inter Fraternity Council Sing.

Individually the brothers contributed to campus activities. Two were acclaimed by Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Dick Cook and Jerry Roemer. Membership in Phi Beta Kappa came to Brother Roemer as a tribute to his scholastic ability. The presidency of the Inter Fraternity Council attested to his leadership ability. The gala 1957 Homecoming Weekend was co-chaired by Dick Cook. In Troubadours Don West was active.

The brothers of Tau Kappa Epsilon can look back to a year of close brotherhood.

An outgoing friendliness combined with a close sense of brotherhood marks the Delta Alpha chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha.

Continuing in their long tradition of outstanding homecoming floats, the brothers of Pi K A won first place this year in the float contest. In intramural football, their team spirit came through for a championship. With the pictures taken by Jim Black, the Delta Alpha history won the national Pi K A award.

Individually the Pikes were active too. Ed Rutsch served the Student Council as Vice President, while Bill Player was appointed to the co-chairmanship of the Student Liason Committee. Brother Rutsch also played on the varsity football team of the University.

The Order of Scarlet honored both Bill Player and Ed Creel with membership. Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities named Ed Rutsch.

The Pikes again were hosts to the entire school at the annual Pi K A Shipwreck Ball, and on a more formal note, rounded out their social program with the formal Dream Girl Dance.

A year of activities, a year of fun, the brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha can remember 1958 with pride.

Enjoying the distinction of a rich Masonic heritage of brotherhood, the men of Acacia find in their fraternity a unique and deep spirit of fraternal closeness.

National recognition came to the George Washington chapter this year as the scholarly brothers received the Walter E. Dahl Scholarship Trophy from the national organization for the greatest scholarship improvement of all of Acacia's chapters.

Acacians were active on campus as individuals too. Ed Felegy served as president of the Enosinian Debating Society. As a varsity debater, Brother Felegy represented the University at many debate tournaments, and was the second affirmative speaker for the University team which defeated the cadet team from West Point at the Student Council sponsored debate in the Fall. His debating ability has won Brother Felegy membership in Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic honorary.

A busy social program balances the studious aspect of Acacia. The brothers were hosts to the incoming students holding scholarship at the annual summer Scholarship Tea. A Christmas Formal, the Founders' Day Banquet, a Faculty and Alumni Open House, and the famous Acacian "Night on the Nile" party all helped to bring the brothers of Acacia together in a spirit of fraternal closeness and gaiety.

1957-1958 found AEPis active in student government and publications. Brothers serving on the Student Council included Al Rode, president, Bob Shuken, advocate, Bob Lipman, Student Union chairman and Burt Kaplan, junior college representative. Dave Aaronson served as administrative assistant to the president of the Student Council.

In the field of publications, Gene Horowitz was active as business manager of the Hatchet. Bob Lipman was Hatchet sports editor, while Bob Greenstein and Aaron Knot served on his staff. Mike Auster worked on the Hatchet as photographer.

Athletics also found the brothers active, with Jerry Cooper a letterman on the basketball team and Saul Liebowitz on the tennis team.

Honorary organizations also found many AEPi brothers among their members. Gene Horowitz, Al Rode and Bob Shuken were recognized by Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary for men, and Brother Horowitz were elected president. Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary, initiated Gene Horowitz, while Bob Shuken was a member of Theta Tau engineering honorary. Who's Who named brothers Rode and Horowitz as outstanding college students.

Working together in close fraternal spirit, the brothers were runner up in the intramural competitions, and placed third in Inter Fraternity Council scholarship.

Pledge Initiation Dance, the May Dinner Dance, and the Pledge Party highlighted the social calendar of AEPi, and rounded out a proud year for the brothers of AEPi.

Activity in University functions and events marked the members of Delta Tau Delta this year. Will Hinely represented the Columbian College on the Student Council, while Tim Mead headed the first Holiday Season Committee of the Student Council. Brothers active on the Homecoming Committee included Lanny Ormsby, Business Manager of the Homecoming Committee, and Tom Whyte, float parade and half time entertainment co-chairman. Will Hinely edited the 1957 Student Handbook. Pete Dyer was a moving power behind the newly formed Foggy Bottom Sports Car Club, while Bob Moore headed the Rowing Club. The social chairman of the Inter Fraternity Council was also Brother Moore. The golf team saw another Delt outstanding, with Jay Randolph winning the District Amateur Open Gold Tournament and captaining the University's golf team. University debate competitions found Dick Jamborsky prominent.

Recognition from various honoraries crowned the brothers' activities. Dick Jamborsky and Will Hinely were named to Who's Who. Don Headley served as treasurer of Gate and Key, fraternity honorary. Tom Brewster, Don Headley, Dick Jamborsky, Chuck Johnson and Tim Mead were members of the Order of Scarlet, while Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic honorary, was headed by Dave Perkins, with Ken Bailey, Henry Mayo and Lee Potterton included in the membership. Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic honorary, initiated Dick Jamborsky.

Working together in fraternal harmony, the Delts again captured first place in the I. F. C. Sing. Second place in the Homecoming Float competition and the All University Sportsmanship Trophy also went to Delta Tau Delta.

Founders' Day Banquet and Rainbow Ball added social highlights to the busy and active year of the members of Delta Tau Delta.

Red doors on the outside and a strong feeling of fraternity inside prevail at 2002 G Street. The brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon work in close harmony to build a strong chapter.

Teamwork ability brought them their second intramural Softball Championship in as many years. A willingness for fraternity service led the pledge class to build a back yard patio under the supervision of Hans Zassenhaus. A willingness for philanthropic service prompted the Hungarian Refugee clothing drive conducted by the brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Individual participation in campus activities was part of 1958. Jack Dano served as I. F. C. secretary. Steve Bourland sang in the University Troubadours. Sig Eps entered the annual beard growing contest with Bob Hoerber winning second place and Val Zabijaka fourth.

Interest in good alumni relations led the chapter to sponsor a highly successful Alumni Banquet at the Kenwood Country Club with brother Lee Beall serving as M. C.

A busy social program also went on at the house with the red doors. Outstanding exchanges included the "Arty Party" with Zeta when brothers exhibited their paintings. The "Patio Party" with Kappa marked the opening of the new patio. Highlight of the social year was the annual Heart Ball.

A strong appreciation of brotherhood and a spirit of fraternity service lead the brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon to look to the future with confidence.

In their house up on Washington Circle, the brothers of Alpha Nu chapter keep alive the southern tradition and deep sense of brotherhood of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Founded at what was then Washington College (later to become Washington and Lee) while General Robert E. Lee was president of the school, Kappa Alpha nurtures the tradition of General Lee as the spiritual founder of the fraternity.

The local chapter, founded at the University originally in 1894, was noted for its annual Dixie Ball, an exciting gala affair, when costumes of the Old South were featured. A period of inactivity was followed by the recent revival of the chapter in working together in building up a strong feeling of brotherhood, the brothers of Kappa Alpha look confidently to the future.

Planning conference.

Coordination of inter-fraternity projects, regulation and enforcement of fraternity rush rules, orientation of new students in the rules of fraternity rush and planning of the annual Greek Week are the main functions of the Inter Fraternity Council.

An addition to the orientation program this year was the Fall IFC Smoker held during Orientation Week at the Potomac Boat Club for the new men students. At this time rush men could informally discuss fraternity life with Greeks and gain a better idea of its advantages.

Highlight of the Inter Fraternity Council's Social Program is the annual Greek Week, held each spring. Beginning with the fraternity officers' banquet, the Greek Week program is designed to strengthen interfraternity friendship and understanding. A week of forums for fraternity officers and open house parties to which all Greeks are welcome, it is a time when fraternity men from all houses can come to know each other better and deeper ties of interfraternity closeness can be formed. Highlights of the Greek Week program are the annual Inter Fraternity Sing and the Inter Fraternity Prom. At the Sing, fraternities compete for the winner's trophy with two selections, including one fraternity song. An award also is presented to the Outstanding Sing Director. The annual Inter Fraternity Council Prom is a gala spring formal open to all fraternity men at the University.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Kitti Maddock receives Panhellenic Book Award.

Regulation and promotion of good intersorority relations is the dual purpose of the Panhellenic Council. Composed of one delegate and the president of each of the eleven sororities, with representatives from Wandering Greeks and Deuterons, the new AEPi colony, as well, this body has administrative, legislative and judicial functions. The offices of the Council rotate yearly among the sororities in the order of their founding on campus.

Determination and enforcement of rushing and pledging regulations and orientation of new women students in the ways of sorority rush are the main tasks facing Panhellenic in the Fall. Following sorority pledging, the Council sets up the Junior Panhellenic with the Vice-President serving as advisor.

Spring semester finds the Council busy with the annual Panhellenic Weekend—the Panhellenic Sing and the Panhellenic Prom. At this time also, in its efforts to encourage high scholarship among the sororities, the Council awards cups to the chapter and pledge class with the highest scholastic average, as well as awards to individual members with outstanding scholastic achievements.

Inter-Sorority Athletic Board

Promotion of intersorority competition in the field of athletics is the function of the Inter-Sorority Athletic Board.

Comprised of delegates from each of the eleven sororities on campus and from Wandering Greeks and the Deuteron colony of AEPhi, the Board plans and regulates tournaments in tennis, volley ball, bridge, table tennis, badminton, bowling, golf and swimming.

Individual cups are awarded to the sororities winning tournaments, and at the annual Spring Women's Athletic Association Sports Award Banquet, the president of the Board presents the rotating Inter-Sorority Athletic Board cup to the sorority with the highest standing for the year.

Junior Pan-Hellenic Council

Organized in the Fall by the Panhellenic Council, with the Vice President serving as advisor, the Junior Panhellenic Council works with the senior organization in spreading high ideals of intersorority cooperation and friendship among the sorority pledge classes.

Composed of one delegate from each pledge class, the Junior Panhellenic is a forum for discussion of matters pertinent to the interests of pledges. The major project of the Junior Council is the annual Goat Show, at which each pledge class presents a skit based on a central theme. Junior Panhel is responsible for selection of the theme and the publicity of the Goat Show. The Goat Show Cup is awarded to the pledge class whose skit is judged best. Junior Panhel also presents a prize to the pledge class submitting the best poster for Goat Show publicity.

Members of the oldest sorority chapter on campus, the sisters of Pi Beta Phi maintain a proud tradition of warm sisterhood and active participation in school activities.

Active on the Student Council were Pepita Lassalle, Program Director, and Elva Schroebl, Freshman Director. Jan Hamilton served as president of the Strong Hall Dorm Council. Sue Porter handled publicity for the first Holiday Season Committee appointed by the Student Council. Elva Schroebl was a member of the Enosinian Debating Society. Marilou McCormick sang in Troubadours. In the field of publications, three sisters worked on the Hatchet, Betsy Evans, Elva Schroebl and Jill Zell. The CHERRY TREE staff claimed Terry Root and Elva Schroebl in sub-editorial positions.

Recognition came to wearers of the wine and silver blue through membership in various honoraries. Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman scholastic honorary, included Betsy Evans as president and Jan Hamilton and Faye Motyka. Betsy Evans, Terry Root and Elva Schroebl were members of Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary, and Elva Schroebl was secretary of Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic honorary.

Pi Phis acclaimed the crowning of Bev. Borden as May Queen last May Day and the election of Bonnie Borden as Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha. In the fall semester, Elva Schroebl was selected for Who's Who.

Pi Phis acclaimed the crowning of Bev Borden as athletic Board cup for the second year in a row and went to work this year to secure permanent possession through championships in the tennis and volleyball tournaments. D. C. Alpha chapter won recognition from its national by winning first place in the province on the standardization and survey report.

A Pledge Formal at the Dupont Plaza, Founders' Day Banquet, numerous Pi Phi nights, Initiation Banquet and exchanges gave the sisters the chance to come together in enjoyment of Pi Phi sisterhood.

As individuals Delta Zetas were active on campus. The Homecoming Variety Show saw Pat Kallis playing the second lead. Sisters of Delta Zeta are also to be found in the Angel Flight, Big Sis, the Chemistry Club, Lutheran Club and Wesleyan Club.

Scholastic ability also brought DZs to prominence. Phi Beta Kappa acclaimed Joyce Gray. Anna Jirgens won the Alpha Zeta Omega award in pharmacy for the highest average in the freshman class of pharmacy school. Her high average also brought her initiation into Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman scholastic honorary for women, of which she is now vice president. Norma Engberg and Anna Jirgens were tapped for Tassels, University honorary for sophomore women.

An active social program helps draw Delta Zetas close in the bonds of sisterhood. The annual Founders' Day Banquet was celebrated at the Kennedy Warren Hotel in October. November saw the active sisters honoring the pledges with a pledge formal at the Gilbert Hotel. A Christmas Party, a Mothers' Club dinner in March, a breakfast in May honoring the graduating seniors and numerous coffee hours and exchanges throughout the year rounded out the active and rewarding life of the Delta Zeta sisterhood.

An appreciation of the basic ideals of college and fraternity life motivates the sisters of Kappa chapter of Phi Sigma Sigma. Banding together in common ideals they find deeper meaning and significance in their college experiences through sisterly companionship.

High scholarship distinguishes the members of Phi Sigma Sigma. Two, Letty Katz and Sylvia Zilber, are found in Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman scholastic honorary for women, with Letty Katz serving as treasurer. Sylvia Zilber is a member of Iota Sigma Pi. The Panhellenic Sing saw Phi Sigma Sigma taking two scholastic prizes, as the pledge class won the Pledge Scholarship Cup, and Letty Katz brought prominence to the group as the pledge with the highest average of all pledges on campus. Again at the Activities Fair Letty Katz won the Top Freshman Average Cup.

Ability to combine activities with studies brought two sisters to membership in Tassels, University honorary for sophomore women, with Letty Katz serving as president. Frances Bran Feldman was the Law School Representative to the Student Council. Active in publications were Linda Mareiniss, Sandy Spivak and Resa Zall on the Hatchet staff, and Letty Katz on the CHERRY TREE staff.

Special honor was brought to the group last summer when Jackie Lovett placed third in the Miss Washington contest.

Pledge Formal, pajama parties, alum parties, exchanges with fraternities combine to add a light note to the Phi Sigma Sigma sorority life, a time when the bonds of sisterhood can be enjoyed.

Strong internal unity combined with participation in campus activities were the hallmarks of the sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha in 1958.

Claire Chennault represented the Engineering School on the Student Council. Loretta Tonelli, as Second Vice President of Big Sis, was active on the Welcome Week program. The CHERRY TREE staff included Sue Thayer, publicity chairman. Maggia Cannon and Ruthie Reagan sang in the Troubadours, with Ruthie serving as secretary. The officers of NSEA included Sue Thayer, president, Marti Propt, vice president, and Carolyn Hall, treasurer. Flying Sponsors elected Ruthie Reagan president. Sue Thayer served Panhellenic Council as secretary.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities recognition came to two sisters, Ruthie Reagan and Sue Thayer. Sue Thayer also held the position of Vice President of Mortar Board, national honorary for senior women.

The bonds of sisterhood were strengthened through Zeta functions. The sixteen lovely pledges were honored at the Pledge Formal held in the Sheraton Park Hotel. The Zetas also presented their dates with ZTA mugs as favors. Bob Jewett, Sigma Chi, was crowned Zeta Sweetheart as the highlight of a wonderful evening. At the Fall Open House, the Founders' Day Banquet, Parents' Orientation Tea, Mothers' Day Tea, Alumni Nite, Chicken and Beans Dinner and the Spring Dance Zetas had the opportunity to come together and enjoy the strong bond of sisterhood.

1958 was a year of harmony within the chapter and honors on campus for the sisters of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Among the Kappas active on campus were Meredith Eagon, Publicity Director of the Student Council, and Jan Powers, Activities Director of the Student Council. Phyllis Charnley co-chaired the Campus Combo committee, while Jeanne Barnes handled the freshman membership sub chairmanship. Jo Peters was president of the Women's Athletic Association. Morna Campbell served on the Big Sis Board as first vice president while Meredith Eagon was Publicity Chairman. Marby Adams, Meredith Eagon and Marilyn Hogenson were on the Colonial Booster Board, while Morna Campbell and Ann Marie Sneeringer promoted school spirit as cheerleaders. Angela Tehaan, Becky Hanzl and Ann Marie Sneeringer sang in the Troubadours. In the field of publications Phyllis Charnley was on the Hatchet staff, while Meredith Eagon did the art work for the Freshman Handbook. Maio Owen and Joan Ramage were on the CHERRY TREE staff.

Membership in honoraries came to Kappas. Meredith Eagon wore the white jacket of Mortar Board and was awarded honorary membership in the Order of Scarlet. Anna Zymoyska was a member of the Iota Sigma Pi and Andy Brown, Marilyn Hogenson, Ann Marie Sneeringer and Angela Tehaan were members of Alpha Lambda Delta, national freshman scholastic honorary for women.

Honors came to the Kappas. Who's Who included Meredith Eagon and Phyllis Charnley. Morna Campbell was a double queen, ROTC Queen and Homecoming Queen, the candidate of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Working together the Kappas took prizes. In the Homecoming Float competition Kappa placed first. Second place in the Panhellenic Sing went to the KKG. The pledges of Kappa Kappa Gamma took first place in the Goat Show.

The Pledge Formal at the Washington Club and the Annual Open House rounded out a year that Kappas can remember with pride.

Close sorority unity and active participation on campus are characteristics of the sisters of Delta Gamma.

Ability to sing in harmony won the DGs the third place cup at the Panhellenic Sing. Ability to work together to support the Colonial Booster program won them the second place Booster Cup. Following in the tradition of the actives, the pledges won glory for Delta Gamma with their second place cup winning "We're the Basis of Your Races."

Individually the DGs are active too. Nancy Oliver aided the Big Sis orientation program as membership chairman. Bunny Miller chairmanned the Colonial Booster Board, while Nancy Jo Niesen headed the special projects committee and Inez Tonelli the pep rally committee. The Cheerleaders were headed by Inez Tonelli, while Liz McGarry and Margie Lenfesty were squad members.

On the Hatchet, Bunny Miller was features editor, while Liz McGarry worked on the staff. Mary Ann Alderson worked on the CHERRY TREE staff. Tassels and Flying Sponsors also number many DGs among their members.

Honors and honoraries came to the sisters. Bunny Miller was picked for Who's Who. Nancy Bealle was named "Outstanding Sportswoman in 1957." Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary, initiated Bunny Miller. Nancy Bealle served as president of Delphi, sorority women's honorary.

The Pledge Formal held in December at the Hunting Towers gave the proud actives a chance to honor their fine pledge class with a dinner dance. The Founders' Day Banquet, the Mother-Daughter Tea, numerous exchanges and social functions rounded out the eventful year for Delta Gamma.

A joy in the bonds of sisterhood and a deep appreciation of fraternity life mark the sisters of Kappa Alpha Theta. In their spacious rooms at 2112 G the wearers of the Theta kite find time for frolic, fellowship and many hands of bridge.

At the Panhellenic Sing an audience startled by the Thetas' unusual costuming was equally startled by the unusual quality of their harmony and change of key. The arrangement of "Rhapsody in Blue," written by two girls in the chapter, won them a well deserved first place trophy. The Panhellenic Goat Show saw another fine performance by representatives of Kappa Alpha Theta, as the pledge class won third place with a "History of American Courtship."

Two fraternity sweethearts wear the Theta kite. Carol Hollett was crowned Delt Queen at their Rainbow Ball, while Gail Shaver was named Sigma Nu Girl.

The Hatchet staff included Sandy Sweadner.

A bright social year of exchanges and coffee hours was highlighted by the Pledge Formal in December when the active chapter honored the new pledge class.

A year of good fun, a year of deep friendships in the bonds of sisterhood, the sisters of Kappa Alpha Theta can remember 1958 as a happy year of fellowship.

FOUNDED AT GW 1956

The Wandering Greeks Society is distinct from every other group of Greeks in at least two respects: it has no pledge class, only active members; and all of its membership are transfers from some other college or university.

Comprised of initiated members of national sororities who have transferred to GW and found no chapter of their sorority here, the Wandering Greeks Society was established two years ago to provide for chapterless sorority women an organization in which they could unite in a sorority spirit, form close friendships on campus, work together in social, athletic and philanthropic projects, and find encouragement for campus activities. In their programs and projects the girls bring to the Wandering Greeks Society the best ideas of all their individual sororities.

With their rooms on the ground floor of the sorority house at 2137 G Street, Wandering Greeks have the sorority girl's advantage of a convenient "Home away from home" on campus to spend leisure time in. Like all other sorority women, they are represented on Panhellenic Council by their president and their delegate. They participate in the Pan Hel Sing with entertainment, and attend the Pan Hel Prom. Active in Inter Sorority Athletic Board tournaments, the Wandering Greeks this year won the trophy for the bridge tournament. Their social program included exchanges and this year a well attended Christmas Formal held at Fort Belvoir. Activity in various philanthropic projects helped round out a busy year for the Wandering Greeks Society.

Deuterons—COLONY OF ALPHA EPSILON PHI

Rushing in a Western theme.

More rush shenanigans!

FOUNDED AT GW 1957

COLONY OF ALPHA EPSILON PHI

The thrill of starting a sorority chapter, of original founding, charter membership, belongs to the Deuterons, members of the Alpha Epsilon Phi colony.

Started in the Spring semester of last year as a local group known as Deuterons, the group soon petitioned for colony status to AEPHI and was installed as such in the Fall. Fall rush found them without rooms of their own with the consequence that all their rush parties had to be held in the Big Sis Lounge.

Individually members brought recognition to their organization by participation in school activities. Doris Rosenberg was treasurer of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honorary for freshman women, numbered four Deuterons among its members. Eight members were tapped for Tassels, sophomore women's honorary. In the field of publications Marcia Saslaw worked on the CHERRY TREE, while Doris Rosenberg was an editor of the Hatchet. Marcia Saslaw was selected by the Student Council to co-chairman the Winter Weekend Committee. She also worked for the Student Council as assistant to the Secretary. Who's Who selected Doris Rosenberg for membership.

Diane Sugar succeeded another Deuteron, Phyllis Grossman, as Phi Alpha sweetheart.

The Deuterons developed a full social program in addition to activities and scholarship. The Pledge Formal in December honored the new pledges, while beach parties and exchanges rounded out the social schedule.

With ingenuity and persistence in handling the problems of organizing a new chapter, the Deuterons have made a good start in 1958 toward the strong sorority that is their goal.

If we could raise high the buff, and we could raise high
the blue,

Who, I wonder, could raise high the standing of G.W.U.?

HEAD COACH EUGENE "BO" SHERMAN

Football

The Colonials started off the gridiron season like a new sputnik and then ran out of fuel after the first few games. Coach Bo Sherman's eleven captured the first tilt with William & Mary, 7-0, and then copped only one more game during the season. The Colonials ended the season by losing to a strong Navy team, 52-0, to compile a two wins and seven losses record.

Coach Sherman, having his first losing season since the 1954 campaign, saw injuries, the Asiatic flu and lack of bench strength topple his Colonials from the powerful Sun Bowl champions of 1956 to the bottom of the Southern Conference.

Ray Looney, the outstanding player in 1956, was lost for the season in the Air Force Academy game and this was perhaps the most crippling blow all season as Looney was not only a great passer and runner, but was the key to the backfield defense.

Before the season even started, Co-Captain Franny Gleason broke his ankle and saw only limited action in the last few games. Second string Quarterback Jack HENZES broke a finger and was out for the first few games and End Bill Berry was lost midway through the season with a broken ankle. Second string Tackle Carl Zaleski separated his shoulder in the West Virginia game, and Halfback Bill Smythe had a back injury forcing him to miss four games.

FIRST ROW: Coach A. Kaline, J. Ozefovich, E. Hino, T. Colna, R. Claypool, R. Looney, Co-Captain F. Gleason, Co-Captain B. Jewett, M. Sommer, J. Kesock, J. Power, C. Packen, Coach Jim Feulla. SECOND ROW: R. Gray, A. Branzinsky, C. Zaleski, D. Herman, B. Frulla, E. Rutsch, M. Hoar, B. Berry, O. Varely, W. Tomeykowski, M. Ennis. THIRD ROW: Head Coach Bo Sherman, Coach Bill Neal, D. Whetstone, O. Valge, D. Harkleroad, J. HENZES, R. DeMelphi, B. Busky, D. Boneskie, J. Wilke, R. Hutsko, R. Wells, W. Fearer, B. Smythe, J. Greene, Coach Ray Hanken.

There were several highlights though coming out of the poor season, the outstanding play of All American Mike Sommer and his thrilling runs in the Air Force and West Virginia games, the Colonials victory over the Air Force Academy at Griffith Stadium before President Eisenhower and 13,000 fans, but other than these, the season was a dismal one for Colonial fans.

Almost all the Colonial games followed the same script with the Sherman-men going out in front for the first half and then losing the ball game in the second half, due to the lack of a good second team and pass defense, the factors that made George Washington a top team in the Southern Conference the year before.

The starting team, composed of End Don Herman, Tackle and Ed Rutsch, Guard Bob Frulla, Center Shorty Varley, Guard Marion Hoar, Tackle and Co-Captain Bob Jewett and End Bill Berry on the line with Quarterback Ray Looney, Halfbacks Mike Sommer and Ted Colna and Dick Claypool at Fullback, played good ball at various times. When injuries struck the team Jack Henzes, Ed Hino, Jack Kesock, Bill Tomcykowski, Duane Whetstone and Jerry Power came up nicely to fill the holes.

G. W. U. 7; William & Mary 0

All American Mike Sommer led the Buff and Blue to a victory in the season opener with a 15 yard run through the line in the third quarter, climaxing a frustrating first half for the Colonials.

Five times the team had scoring opportunities and each time they were thwarted. Played in 95 degree weater, the inexperience of the second team and the heat slowed down the game.

The first time the Colonials got their hands on the ball, they started to move with Quarterback Ray Looney leading the attack, backed up with the off-tackle and end arounds of the two Halfbacks, Mike Sommer and Ted Colna. They moved to within the Indians 17 yard line, but the drive was halted when several passes by Ray Looney went incomplete.

The winning touchdown came when Mike Ennis recovered a fumble on the Indians 43 yard line. Fullback Dick Claypool went for three, Ennis carried for 25 and Mike Sommer zigzagged through the line for the winning score.

The Indians made only one serious threat and that was late in the fourth quarter. Quarterback Bob Hardage of the Indians tossed a pass into the end zone only to have it called back with a penalty. The Buff line then dug in and stopped the drive on the 10.

The Citadel 13; G. W. U. 6

The Bulldogs of The Citadel pulled what the 7000 fans at Washington-Lee High field thought to be the upset of the year, but a few of the skeptical realized what the Colonials were in store for for the rest of the year. In the first home appearance of the year, the Buff and Blue were a two touchdown favorite as they went on the field.

The Colonials took the opening kickoff and marched 53 yards with Ray Looney, Dick Claypool and Mike Sommer leading the drive. However, the Bulldogs dug in and the drive petered out when Looney was caught behind the line on fourth down on the Citadel 40.

Sherman's men held them for the series of downs and once again drove downfield, this time to be stopped on the 10. To the fans it was just a matter of when and how much the Colonials would score.

However, the all important coach in the press box for Citadel spotted a weakness in the Colonial defense and by passing into the deep secondary constantly, the Bulldogs moved all the way from their 10 to the two yard line. The Buff line dug in and on fourth down the Citadel missed a field goal.

A little later another Citadel drive was stopped on the Colonial five. Quarterback Ray Looney then showed his gameness and pitched a short pass to Mike Sommer who, with the help of a good block by Jack Kesock, outdistanced the whole Citadel team for a 95 yard scoring pass play. This was the longest pass play in the Southern Conference history and showed notice to the other teams that Sommer had finally regained his Sophomore stride.

Ray Looney is all alone in the Air Force Game, that is, all except for one Falcon that broke through the Colonials' defense.

The second half started with Dick Claypool leading the team down to the Bulldogs five. Claypool, breaking open twice and slipping both times, accounted for 54 yards of the drive. But a big fumble hurt the Colonials as the Citadel recovered. Inspired by stopping the Buff, the Bulldogs marched downfield for their first score, topped off by a 50 yard pass play.

The fourth quarter was a nightmare for the Colonial fans as the Buff and Blue were unable to do anything and the Bulldogs outran the tired first team for the winning score. After this game Coach Sherman said that part of the trouble was the lack of substitutes. To add to his woe, Ray Looney twisted an ankle and was not at full running strength.

Furman 13; G. W. U. 12

Once again the Colonials grabbed an early lead, but their lack of bench strength and the Asiatic flu helped them lose their second staright to the Hurricanes of Furman. Southern Conference Tackle Ed Rutsch charged through the Hurricanes line in the opening minutes of the game and blocked a kick and Bob Jewett picked it up and ran 27 yards to the Furman 16. Furman was then guilty of holding and the ball was moved to the two where Dick Claypool crashed into the end zone for the first score.

Midway in the first quarter the Buff marched 88 yards, led by Ted Colna's 30 yard run around end and climaxed by Sommer's five yard sprint for the second score. Claypool attempted the extra point but it went wide. Near the end of the first half, the Colonials fumbled on their own 37 and then drew a 15 yard penalty for holding. The Hurricanes then pushed over the score just before the half and converted the all important extra point.

The second half saw the Colonials moving for small gains only to be stopped by the determined Furman team. Late in the fourth quarter Furman put on the game winning drive topped off with a 30 yard scoring pass and pointing up the lack of pass defense for the tired and disappointed Buff eleven. Part of this was due to the flu, as on the Wednesday before the game, Coach Sherman only had 16 men out for practice.

G. W. U. 20; Air Force Academy 0

In their first appearance at Griffith Stadium, the Colonials shot down the high flying Air Force Falcons before President Eisenhower and 13,00 fans by the loss of Ray Looney for the rest of the season with a dislocated shoulder.

Once again the Colonials started off like a big winner and began marching downfield the first time they got the ball. With Ray Looney running the option to perfection and Claypool surging off tackle, the Buff scored from the one, with Mike Sommer going over. Moments later, Sommer brought the crowd to its feet when Ted Colna gave him the ball on a reverse on a punt return. With good blocking by Bob Jewett and the final block by Ray Looney, Sommer went untouched for 68 yards for the score. It was on this play that Looney dislocated his shoulder.

HALFBACK MIKE SOMMER

QUARTERBACK RAY LOONEY

The Falcons opened up their passing attack and started to move on several occasions but each time the Buff line, led by Ed Rutsch and Bob Jewett, stopped them. The Falcons collected only 90 yards on the ground during the entire game and didn't have too much more success in the air. Late in the third quarter Jerry Power zigzagged 27 yards for the third and final score of the evening. Highlight of the game was the good defensive play of the starting line, composed of Don Herman, Bob Jewett, Marion Hoar, Shorty Varley, Bob Frulla. Ed Rutsch and Bill Berry.

West Virginia 34; G. W. U. 14

In what was supposedly the weakest Mountaineer team in several years, the Colonials found out right from the start that this was wrong as the Buff went down to their third loss of the year in a rather convincing manner. After the game Coach Bo Sherman said he thought it was the best West Virginia team the Colonials had played against.

West Virginia wasted no time and Ray Peterson went through center and guard for 65 yards for the score. One play after the kickoff, Mike Sommer went off tackle for 71 yards and Dick Claypool converted the extra point to put the Buff ahead for a short time.

This is all the Colonial fans had to cheer about as the West Virginia team took the kickoff and marched down field again. With the help of some poor Buff tackling and unnecessary roughness penalties the Mountaineers scored to go ahead 13-7.

The fans sat and watched West Virginia run around end and pass through the secondary with ease while the Colonials could do nothing with their defense. After the fourth Mountaineer score, Quarterback Ed Hino connected with Jack Kesock for a 43 yard pass to the West Virginia 24. Mike Sommer and Dick Claypool moved the ball down to the 11, but Hino's next pass was intercepted in the end zone. Late in the game, End Don Herman blocked a punt and recovered on the one yard line where Hino sneaked over. Claypool converted the extra point for the only other Colonial score. The only good thing out of the game for the Buff was the outstanding running of their fine Halfback Mike Sommer.

V M. I. 26; G. W. U. 20

Once again the Colonials saw victory taken away from them as Jack Henzes led them with his passing attack to a 20-19 lead in the waning minutes of the fourth quarter only to have the Keydets bounce back to score the winning touchdown.

The Colonial's top runner Mike Sommer was injured on the second play and was used only sparingly in the game. The Keydets, one of the surprising and top teams in the Southern Conference started right off. The first play from scrimmage went for 50 yards to the Colonials 16. Three plays later the Keydets scored in what promised to be a lopsided game. Later in the second period V. M. I. scored on a long pass play that completely fooled the makeshift Buff backfield and went ahead 13-0.

The Colonials received their first break of the game when Center Ron DeMelphi recovered a fumble on the V. M. I. 28. Dick Claypool, Ted Colna and Mike Ennis moved the ball down to the seven. On the next play Quarterback Jack HENZES threw a scoring aerial to Co-Captain Franny Gleason. Claypool converted the extra point. This was the first game that Gleason had played in due to his broken ankle.

The Keydets marched back with their third score, culminated by a 39 yard pass to the Colonial two. But Jack HENZES started tossing the ball around the field like he wasn't supposed to and the Colonials drove 67 yards for their second score. The big plays of the march were passes to end Jack Kesock for 18 yards and then a scoring aerial to Ted Colna for 29 yards. Dick Claypool converted and the Buff trailed at halftime, 19-14.

Prior to the game HENZES had completed only one out of 14 passes but during this game, in which he almost singlehanded won for the Buff, he tossed 20 passes with nine completions for 102 yards and three touchdowns.

In the third quarter, Mike Sommer intercepted a Keydet pass and was caught from behind. The play was good for 40 yards and put the ball on the seven. Jack HENZES then stepped back and threw his third scoring pass to Jerry Power. Claypool again converted to put the Buff ahead for the first time in the game, 20-19. For almost the rest of the game neither team could put on much of a drive and it looked for a moment that the Colonials were going to pull the upset of the Southern Conference. But with only three minutes remaining, the Keydet Quarterback, trapped when going back to pass, ran 46 yards before Dick Claypool brought him down on the Buff eight. About seven Colonials had a chance to tackle him back upfield, but each time he eluded them. The Keydets scored on the next play and handed the Buff their second straight defeat and fourth of the year.

Boston University 7; G. W. U. 0

The Boston Terriers blanked the Buff for the first time of the year and spoiled the Colonials Homecoming game. In a steady downpour and muddy field, a blocked kick in the second quarter spelled defeat for the weary Sherman-men.

Once again the Colonials came up with a case of fumblyitis, dropping the pigskin five times and losing it twice. Each time the lost fumble stopped a Colonial drive.

Both teams were playing it safe and on third down Jerry Power went back to kick. A Boston lineman broke through and blocked his kick and Boston recovered on the six. On the next play Boston scored to clinch their victory. The Buff started off the game with a 27 yard kickoff return by Ted Colna. With Dick Claypool and Mike Sommer leading the drive, the Buff moved all the way down to the 21. This was the only real threat of the Colonials until late in the fourth quarter when Jack HENZES and Jack Kesock teamed up with several desperation passes. This drive started from the Colonials 19 but was stopped when one of HENZES passes went astray on the Boston 25.

Richmond 13; G. W. U. 6

Once again Coach Sherman's men followed the script and taking the opening kickoff, marched downfield for the first and only score of the game. With Halfbacks Ted Colna and Mike Sommer eating up most of the yardage, the Colonials scored from the five with Dick Claypool going over.

However, this bit of glory faded quickly as Richmond completely dominated the rest of the first half. Both Richmond scores came on gifts from the Buff, once from a bad kick and the other time on the fourth down gamble that failed. The Spiders first score came on a bad kick by Dick Claypool, the ball slipping off the side of his foot and going out of bounds on the Richmond 40. Several plays later Richmond scored on an eight yard pass play.

The second score by the Spiders came on the Colonial gamble that misfired. With fourth down and six to go, Quarterback Jack HENZES elected to go for the first down only to be stopped cold. Richmond then moved 55 yards in five plays to score the winning touchdown, on a 24 yard pass play.

The second half was a complete stalemate with both teams having series of short drives, fumbles and intercepted passes. The story of the game was shown in the statistics as the Colonials completed only four out of 22 passes and had three intercepted. The only bright light in this game was the running of second string Fullback Duane Whetstone.

Navy 52; G. W. U. 0

The men from Annapolis handed the Colonials one of their worst defeats in the past decade as they swamped the Buff 52-0 before 10,000 fans. In blanking the Colonials, the Midshipmen kept the series record intact, twice before meeting G. W. and twice blanking them.

Navy's first team was used for only nine offensive plays, but the Midshipmen scored two touchdowns in nine minutes. After All American Quarterback Tom Forrestal had pierced the Buff pass defense, the Colonials put on their only scoring threat and with Ted Colna leading the surge, moving down to the Navy 14 before being stopped.

From then on, it was the Navy second string and the hungry third and fourth stringers rolling it up over the hapless Colonials. Statistically the Buff could not salvage any prestige. The Midshipmen ran through the Colonial line for 354 yards and made 148 more through the air. Navy, one of the top teams in the nation on defense, held George Washington to a mere 80 yards rushing, and 49 yards passing. The Colonials netted only nine yards in the first half on the ground and lost three yards on two completed passes.

This was the end of the season and the end of the collegiate football careers of many seniors, including Bill Berry, Shorty Varley, Bob Frulla, Bob Jewett, Franny Gleason, Bill Tomcykowski, Ray Looney Mike Sommer, and Dick Claypool. Although this was the worst season since 1954, it still will be remembered for the thrills that came out of the different games.

Jack HENZES moves out into the open in the West Virginia game with Bob Frulla, number 61, and Duane Whetstone, number 30, leading the interference.

Season's Record: 12 Wins, 11 Losses

Coach Bill Reinhart guided the Colonial hoopsters to a fine season after losing the first five games of the season. Colonial fans saw the team combine a five game losing streak from last year's disastrous 3-21 record to set a distasteful record of ten losses in a row.

However, over the holidays, Bucky McDonald and Bill Telasky came to life midway in the season with a brilliant spurt that saw the Colonials winning 12 out of their last 18 ball games over the span. The Colonials cemented their hold on the Southern Conference tournament with a second place finish.

George Washington's list of opponents for the 1957-58 season took a back seat to no one in the hoop circles. Starting with Maryland in the opener, the Colonials met North Carolina, Pittsburgh, St. John's, West Virginia and Temple. North Carolina and West Virginia were ranked number one in the nation while Temple, Maryland and Pitt were always in the top ten.

BUCKY McDONALD

Bucky McDonald drops in a rebound shot in the St. Johns game at Madison Square Garden.

Coach Reinhart had big Gene Guarilia, who led the Colonials in scoring and rebounding for the second straight year, carry the load early in the season. Once McDonald and Telasky rounded into form, the Buff's fast break was near impossible to stop. Another high point of the season was the fine defensive work of sophomore Howard Bash. Time and time again, the Fort Wayne ball hawk held the opposing team's top scorer to the minimum. Junior Sam Knisley rounded out the starting five, and combined with Guarilia to control the backboards.

A great part of the success of the Colonials after mid-season was the well-balanced scoring and hustle of the players. Early in the season Guarilia was doing all the scoring, but during the main winning streak, Gene tapered off a little while McDonald and Telasky picked up to about 20 points per game. Bash averaged about eight points per game and Knisley hit for an average of six.

Colonial sketches:

Gene Guarilia, 6'6" center from Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. Voted as one of the most outstanding players in the Southern Conference for two years in a row. Gene had excellent speed, was a top shot and a fine rebounder, being near the top in the nation in that department.

Bucky McDonald, 6'2" junior from Martinsburg, West Virginia. Sparked the Colonials to a winning season with his excellent ball handling and shooting. Second only to Guarilia in scoring, Bucky was the main cog in the Colonials tight-fisted zone defense.

Bill Telasky, 6'2" junior from Albany, New York. This was his third year on the starting five and perhaps his best. He teamed with McDonald to give Colonial opponents a fit on defense while his set shooting often broke up a tight ball game.

Howard Bash, 6'3" sophomore from Fort Wayne, Indiana was the most improved player on the team. He had excellent speed and rebounding ability along with his topnotch defensive work. He teamed with Sam Knisley in steadying out the Colonials when they found themselves in trouble.

Sam Knisley, 6'5" junior from Savage, Maryland was a close runnerup for the most improved player on the team. The baseball star donned glasses at the start of the season helping his play throughout the season. Although not a high scorer, he teamed with Guarilia to control the backboards.

Cheerleaders

The University Cheerleaders help to promote more school spirit among G.W.U. students by leading cheers at football and basketball games and at the pep rallies.

A new squad is selected each Spring by representatives of each team and by the captain of the cheerleading squad.

Inez Tonelli served as captain of this year's squad which drew into its ranks the peppiest girls on campus. Hours of practice and hard work are entailed in being a cheerleader, but it is still a lot of fun and the girls never fail to instill spirit in our teams or their fans.

COACH BILL REINHART

Baseball

Coach Bill Reinhart's nine copped its second straight Southern Conference championship in a very impressive manner, winning 19 and losing only two. The only blemish on the season was the double loss in the N.C.A.A. Southern District playoffs to Duke and Georgia Teachers.

The secret to success was an outstanding pitching staff composed of Lefty Roger Turner, Righthanders George Bickerton, Dick Claypool and freshman Lefty Jack Arthur. In the regular season this pitching staff allowed an average of 2.65 earned runs per game.

Trainer Harry Ledford, B. Austin, J. Henzes, R. Looney, R. Kunze, D. Cilento, S. Knisely, J. Power, G. Bickerton, G. D'Ambrosio, D. Giesler, G. Smith, D. Claypool, J. Reilly, R. Turner, J. Arthur, R. Bierwagon, Coach Bill Reinhart.

However pitching doesn't make up the whole team, and it seems that Coach Reinhart was twice blessed with an outstanding infield and outfield, led by Shortstop Sam Knisely, Firstbaseman Ray Looney, Leltfielder Gino D'Ambrosio and Secondbaseman Dick Cilento. The one problem of the victorious nine was to find positions for the various men, as most of the team could play several positions to perfection.

Starting off with the infield, Dick Giesler came out of retirement to win Southern Conference honors at Catcher, batting .303 and throwing out more runners in the first four games than were thrown out all the previous season. At first Ray Looney repeated as another Southern Conference choice, being runnerup in runs batted in with 16. Second baseman Dick Cilento was signed to a professional contract, teaming up with Sam Knisely to give the Colonials the best offensive and defensive key-stone combination in the league. Knisely, coming along slow at the beginning of the season, attracted many notices by his fielding and slugging, leading the team in homeruns with four, in batting with .329 and r.b.i.'s with 20. Jack HENZES alternated at third base with Jerry Power and Ted Colna, all of them doing a capable job in the field and at bat to give the Colonials the top infield in the league.

Gino D'Ambrosio, Dick Claypool, Jerry Power and Bo Austin rounded all the outfield. D'Ambrosio was a Southern Conference choice, due to his smooth fielding and in right field while Claypool and Power alternated in center work at the plate, Bo Austin held down the steady job in the infield.

The story of the successful season was shown in the statistics, the Colonials had about six or seven men who could explode at anytime during the game. Each game seemed to bring out a new star, Dick Giesler, Ray Looney and Bo Austin carried the team to their first straight six wins, Dick Ciento, Jack HENZES, Sam Knisely and Gino D'Ambrosio came along in the middle of the season. The three top pitchers, Roger Turner, George Bickerton and Jack Arthur, were the envy of every coach in the Conference. The big three pitched a total of 157 innings, striking out 147 opposing batters while only allowing 44 earned runs, winning 15 and losing only two games.

Golf

Jay Randolph demonstrates the form that led him to the Southern Conference Championship.

Jay Randolph led the Colonial golfers to their first Southern Conference championship in the history of the school, winning the tournament at Richmond with the low team score of 608. Furman was second with 611.

Randolph won top prize with the low score of 142 and Warren Krick came in second with 148. Randolph, only a sophomore, was the only player in the tournament with sub-par golf to his credit. Along with Randolph and Krick, Joe Haney had 159, and Vic Bartlett had a 159.

In closing the season in fine style, the golfers boasted a season record of six wins and only two losses in dual matches. Playing their home matches at the Kenwood Country Club, the Colonials dropped matches to William & Mary, 4-5. Washington & Lee, 4-5, while beating Maryland $5\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$, 5-4 over V. M. I., $5\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ over William & Mary, 6-3 over Georgetown, 24-3 over Richmond and 8-1 over West Virginia.

Randolph led the team in low average throughout the season with a 71 plus mark, while Freshman Joe Haney was the only player of the team to finish the season without losing a match. Randolph was second with seven wins and one loss, followed by Krick, 5-3, Captain Larry Spellman, 4-3-1, Bartlett, 3-4-1 and Irv Salem, 3-5.

Tennis

The Colonial Tennis team swept to their second straight Southern Conference championship behind the leadership of Freshman Jim Tarr and a well-balanced team.

The championship, determined on a point basis, was won not through any one individual but by team play, as Jim Tarr lost in the singles final and the doubles team of Saul Leibowitz and John Bouquet were beaten in the finals. However with Jack Tarr, Phil Dobyns and John Kaarid, Coach Bill Shreve's team swept through its Southern Conference schedule on nine games and losing only to Maryland, North Carolina and Duke in the process of compiling an outstanding 12 and 3 record.

Perhaps one of the main reasons for the successful season was a brothers combination, Jim and Jack Tarr. As a freshman Jack played in the number one slot but had to take a back seat when his brother entered the University. With those two boys forming a nucleus, the rest of the team had less pressure on them and in the long run came through in fine style. This was only the second Southern Conference championship in Colonial history.

Men's Intramurals

Under the direction of Professor Vincent J. De Angelis, the intramural sports program enjoyed one of its tightest races in several years. At the end, Phi Alpha came out ahead to cop first with Alpha Epsilon Pi second, Delta Tau Delta third and Sigma Chi fourth.

The object of intramural sports is to provide a program of activities that will meet the nature, needs and capacities of the students of the University. The program includes touch football, swimming, basketball, volleyball, softball, golf, track, ping pong, bowling, foul shooting, boxing, wrestling, badminton and tennis to give everyone an opportunity to participate.

The All-University Team Achievement Award went to Phi Alpha and the Individual Participation Award went to Irwin Reuben of Phi Alpha. Trophies and keys were presented to the winning organizations for each sport at the final banquet at the close of school.

The championship football game was one of the most exciting in many a year with Phi Alpha beating Delta Tau Delta by one first down. However, the Delts bounced back from this loss to take the swimming meet at the Y.M.C.A. with Kappa Sigma taking second. Phi Alpha copped first prize in bowling with Alpha Epsilon Pi second and Delta Theta Phi took the honors in golf with Alpha Epsilon Pi second again.

An independent team called the Jersians defeated the Medical School Sophomores to take the basketball title, Delta Tau Delta took the wrestling cup, Alpha Epsilon Pi punched their way to victory in boxing. Sigma Chi took the volleyball championship along with badminton and finished second to Welling Hall in the track meet. Sigma Phi Epsilon defeated Phi Alpha in the finals of the softball playoffs and Sigma Nu took the ping pong trophy.

Sailing

The Sailing Team retained its high ranking when it copped a second place finish in the annual Frostbite Regatta at the Corinthian Yacht Club. In placing second, the Colonials defeated the area champion Navy, 102-98, and also defeated Princeton, the National Sailing champions, 102-92.

Once again it was Skipper Rick Davies leading the team on with Pete Davies, Pete Gianacakus as other skippers, while Gigi Winslett, Francis Visconti and Betty Barry were the crews. In topping off their high place in the Frostbite Regatta, the Colonials placed second in the area championships, beat Georgetown in a team race, placed seventh in the Denmark Trophy competition and placed tenth in the Middle Atlantic championships.

Rifle

Led by All American Sharpshooter Paul Nordquist, the Colonial Rifle team shot their way to an excellent 6 and 2 record. Under the fine coaching of Jim Feula, the Colonial shooters suffered defeats only at the hands of the always strong Virginia Polytechnical Institute.

Supplementing Captain Nordquist were Courtney Schlosser, Ian Rule, Dave Hertig and Miss Helen Skopic. Miss Skopic was the top prone position woman firer in the nation last year. George Washington fired against The Citadel, Washington & Lee, Georgetown, Catholic University, VPI and VMI.

One of the lesser known sports, the contestants must combine sure eyesight and steady nerves. Each contestant fires ten shots each from three required positions: prone, kneeling and standing, getting a maximum of 100 points per position. Matches are conducted by postal matches and also by shoulder to shoulder firing.

Captain and All American Paul Nordquist displays one of his perfect scorecards.

Women's Sports

The Department of Physical Education for Women in cooperation with two student organizations, the Womens' Athletic Association and the Inter-Sorority Athletic Board, presents many opportunities for women to participate in a wide variety of sports. Sports in the Fall include field hockey, tennis, golf, and horseback riding. Winter activities are basketball, bowling, badminton, volleyball, riflery, and ice skating. In the Spring, women may participate in swimming, tennis, golf, canoeing, horseback riding, and softball.

In addition to instructional classes, there are opportunities to participate, (thru the Womens' Athletic Association and the Inter-Sorority Athletic Board), in intramural games in these sports. Sports days and extramural games are held with teams from other area colleges and universities. To encourage enthusiasm in seasonal and year-round sports, sports clubs are organized to provide recreational activities at all levels of skill.

The sports seasons are culminated with a buffet dinner in Lisner Lounge to honor sports participants and award winners. At the Spring buffet, the most coveted award, Outstanding Sports Girl of the Year, is presented by the Department of Physical Education for Women.

Golf is one of the more popular sports in the University program.

While some will strive to catch the public ear,
As senator, college profesor, or pulpiteer!
Four delightful years, as far as they could see,
Were devoted to the task of procuring a degree.
The proper amount of credit hours possessed at last,
The door begins to close on the college past.
We see them standing in their little celectial stalls,
Waiting until the stirring graduation ceremony calls;
Anxious and trembling as they contemplate,
The various aspects of their fate.
Stamped with the obvious mark of education,
They emerge now armed to teach the later generation.
Equipped with memory, fact, and illustration,
Ability to carry on brilliant conversation;
Having been, thus, inspired with hydroptic yearning
Let them all continue seeking accelerated learning.
Oh, mere words handicap appropriate expressing;
